MOTORMAN IS CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Joseph M. Shea, a motorman in the employ of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company, was arraigned in district court this morning on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Peteros Viletska of 251 Fayette street, who died Saturday afternoon at the Lowell Sanatorium hospital as the result of injuries sustained when he was struck by an electric car in Dracut on the night of August 24. Shea pleaded not guilty and was continued to Oct. 1, bonds being set at $2000 for his appearance on that date.

The accident which is alleged to have caused Viletska's death happened near St. Mary's church in Collingdale about 10 o'clock on the night of Aug. 24. The street car operator claimed that Viletska walked directly in front of his car despite the fact that the motorman was sounding his whistle and going.

TRIPLE-COMBINATION PUMPING ENGINE

The pumping engine of a triple-combination building with a rated capacity of 1000 gallons per minute, is recommended by Fire Chief Edward J. Saunders and a requisition for such an engine is now in the mayor's office. The apparatus, requisitioned, it is understood, is to take the place of the Robinson 750-gallon pumping engine known as Engine 3 and located at the Central fire station. This engine is one of the oldest in the department, and for several months past has been used as a chemical and hose wagon only, as the pump is out of order and cannot be repaired.

For several months after the Association building fire there was considerable agitation to have at least one pump rated at 1000 gallons or more located in this city. Following the New England fire chiefs' convention in Boston in July, an Abrams-Fox 1000-gallon, triple-combination pumping engine was given a demonstration here.

It was indicated by those in charge of his western campaign that Kansas City and St. Louis would be included in the democratic nominee's mid-western itinerary.

ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY BY NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY COMMITTEE

Second Hearing of Leaders in Local Preparedness Campaign Disposes of Much Important Business in Paving Way to Formation of City's Official Program

"Preparedness means national security." That was the four-word keynote of the second parade rally of leading citizens called together again last evening for the purpose of settling all important business in an expression of loyalty on "National Defense Day," Friday, Sept. 12.

Inclement weather conditions failed to affect the attendance, or dampen the ardors of representatives of many Lowell civic, military, fraternal, social, industrial and religious organizations ever active in the municipality at large. Progress was made immeasurably in the advancement of the city-wide campaign that is expected to enlist many thousands of citizens in the coming parade. The committee will attend to the matter at the next meeting, on Friday evening of this week.

At this point in last night's busy meeting, white cards with tiny red strings attached for buttonhole knotting, were distributed by Maj. William J. Wilson. The cards were a surprise to some of the program organizers, and they were read closely. The major had to explain. They read as follows:

"This certifies that _____ has expressed his loyalty to our country by associating himself with _____ on 'Defense Day,' Sept. 12, 1924, at Lowell, Massachusetts."

The cards are to be filled out with names of the persons wearing them and the organization to which they belong, simply as a matter of identification, if desired. One doesn't have to wear the cards to appear in the line of march, however.

The general committee also distributed small blue posters for use on automobiles. Drivers may show their patriotism by displaying same on windshields. They take up very little space in the glass, yet are readable many yards away, owing to the elongated, heavy, black-face type used in the printer's make-up of the announcement, which reads as follows:

"BACK UP 'BLACK JACK'"

Lowell Citizens' Committee

Major Palmer discussed with several members of the rallying workers last night, the campaign to "orientalize" Lowell in various ways, advertising "National Defense Day" and also helping to enlist the co-operation of more patriotic citizens, some of whom possibly have not been informed at length about the prospective patriotic observance and its real meaning. In Springfield, 50,000 public notices and enrollment tags have been issued by patriotic committees who are making a strikingly elaborate campaign already and planning to enlarge the program next year, if possible. The "tip" from Springfield was given last night to Lowell citizens just to show how generally and how loyally "National Defense Day" is to be celebrated in communities large and small.

Two other delegates representing officially local Carpenters' union, No. 49, were interested visitors at the citizens' rally last evening. Both union workmen declared that the objects of the Sept. 12 mobilization were praiseworthy and that the plans of the general committee were excellent. At last night's informal meeting open to everyone interested and anxious to help, should be loyally supported. The campaign literature distributed at last night's rally, was read by the carpenters' delegates, who asked that the general committee be given the members' personal in Carpenters' hall last evening. The union organization held a business meeting there and sent the delegates to the "Defense Day" rally for information. Major Wilson, Major Palmer and Commander Macdonald were among the committee members who explained to the carpenters the exact meaning and reasons for the coming preparedness exhibition.

Considerable further business was transacted last evening before adjournment. The general committee reported that numerous tags and markers indicating units in the coming parade, were necessary, and considerable printing would have to be contracted for. Some members thought that more funds than the municipal $500 contribution, would be needed. There would be additional expense later on, all agreed.

Secretary Walsh reported that the problem of securing band music for the street parade, must be solved on the coming of the Fifth Infantry. The committee had planned U. S. A. crack band of 45 musicians, advised came yesterday to the effect that the "Dandy Fifth" has been transferred from Camp Devens to Portland, Me., and leaves Ayer on "National Defense Day" en route to its new location. If this transfer had not been ordered on that date, Lowell citizens would have been able to see and hear one of the finest military bandsmen's organizations in the service of the regular fighting arms.

Maj. Wilson suggested that at least two band organizations would be necessary in the parade line. It will be possible to secure a battalion of rifle companies from Camp Devens, to appear in the Lowell street demonstration, Capt. Parker reported. The service of the troops will be without cost, but the Devens headquarters must be given meals while they remain in Lowell. Payment for the railroad movement of the troops from Devens to Lowell and return must be made by check in advance. It was announced by Major Parker.

The printing committee reported about $80 spent thus far for necessary material to be used in promoting and the coming celebration.

The Lowell High School Band suggested was made that the Lowell High school band be invited to participate in the parade, and that of Schools Molloy's opinion was asked about this arrangement. Mr. Molloy said that the school band members would undoubtedly gladly co-operate, as well as all school authorities, in every way possible.

It was voted unanimously to secure at least three companies of military troops from Camp Devens, for the Sept. 12 street parade.

The discussion that followed the bringing up of the topic relative to the need of a respectable public speaker for "National Defense Day" was participated in by several committee members. Among the distinguished names mentioned was that of Cardinal O'Connell. Secretary Walsh announced, however, that the cardinal would probably be in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 15, 13 and 14, in attendance at a most important convocation of Holy Name societies to be held in the capital city on the dates named. It would, of course, be impossible to secure the cardinal's services to come to Lowell on "National Defense Day."

Among the names suggested for the speakers' list at the Memorial Auditorium ceremonies to be held in the evening, were those of James D. Williams, Boston Transcript editor; Rev. Francis Smith, and Rev. Roy F. Thomas, Lowell clergyman, and former Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester.

The committee came to no decision in the matter, but expect to have a list of prospective speakers prepared for consideration next Friday night.

Considerable discussion followed the bringing up of the Memorial Auditorium mass meeting plans, now merely in the perspective. Impressive patriotic ceremonies are planned, possibly to be staged on the steps and the main plaza of the Auditorium in the early evening. Massings of many the American flags will be featured, singing patriotic anthems. Sept. 12, Molloy gave the committee last evening many very valuable suggestions, for which he was generously thanked at the close of the rally.

Mr. Molloy thought that a monster chorus of school children might be organized for the flag ceremonies and troping of the colors, with Mr. Blunt prepared to assist in the musical program under contemplation. It is planned to specially feature the mass meeting that immediately follows the street parade.

If darkness sets in early and the street parade is not concluded until after sunset, the committee will have a portable searchlight in readiness to "flood" the Auditorium main entrance and the steps, as well as a large section of the plaza, so the ceremonies in tribute to the stars and stripes may not be discouraged or cancelled entirely.

It was noted at last night's meeting that no representative of the Lowell police department was present. The committee was informed that the police department is unable to come to any definite conclusion as to the cause of the milk being so low in fat and solids content.

Within the past several weeks there has been a gradual change for the better, the milk inspector said, and he expects the quality will reach the average for this time of the year very soon.

Eighty per cent of the milk supply for Lowell, according to figures compiled at the inspector's office, comes from neighboring towns and the remaining twenty per cent is furnished by dairies in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Of the eighty per cent supplied by neighboring towns, twenty-two per cent comes from Dracut, twenty per cent from Chelmsford, and the remainder from Billerica, Andover, Littleton, Pelham, N. H., and other towns within a twenty mile radius of this city.

WANT CARRIER FOR PELHAM MAIL

The abandonment of car service between Lowell and Pelham, Mass., is causing considerable inconvenience and hardship to the Pelham people. Not only are they forced to connect with Lowell or other outside cities by automobile but now their mail service is seriously disrupted. Formerly when direct mail service between Lowell and Pelham it was the custom to send mail to the Lowell central postoffice and then to transport it to Pelham under the care of the railway company. When Pelham was cut off from Lowell, mail was sent to Nashua and then via the Nashua and Lowell line. Now, however, because of the abandonment of the Nashua-Pelham line a new arrangement has been found necessary.

After a conference with Pelham postmaster, Mr. Doherty of the Lowell office has announced that he will accept bids from any reputable firm or individual for the transportation of United States mail between Lowell and Pelham. Two double trips a day will be necessary, one in the early morning and another in the late afternoon. The messenger chosen must be a resident of either Lowell or Pelham. For further information apply at the Lowell or Pelham postoffice.

was found lying at the bottom of the cellar stairs with numerous superficial cuts. He told the police that a burglar had shot Noble as he entered the house and had then attacked him.

Police investigation, however, developed discovery in the pantry of an Austrian rifle of the same calibre as the fatal bullet, and led to the doctor's arrest on the charge of murder. Police officials said Thierry had shot down Noble as he entered the door, then mutilated himself.

While at the hospital, Dr. Thierry attempted suicide by severing an artery, and later confessed to a Middlesex county physician that for years he had been a confirmed ether addict.

Assistant District Attorney Warren L. Bishop has announced that a motive has been clearly established the nature of which has not been made known. Dr. Thierry was found to have been named by Noble as the beneficiary of insurance policies totalling about $17,000. Noble's wife died of pneumonia last April.

Miss Mary Welch of Somerville, the "blonde in white" who told police she was passing the Thierry house when a shot was fired, but saw no one leaving the place, was called to testify, as was Roland Longbottom, also of Somerville, her companion. Other prospective witnesses were Mrs. Bessie Emery, a neighbor, who said no one left the house by the rear after the shooting, and Captain Van Amburgh, a state pilot expert. He examined the Austrian rifle which Thierry said he had given away, and a bundle of silversware which was found in the dining room, and said by Thierry to have been burglars' loot.

North Carolina collected $8,000,000 in auto license fees and gasoline taxes for the year ending June 30.

REGISTRATION IN DRACUT

Ninety and nine hundred voters have been added to the official Dracut town voters' registration lists thus far this year, according to announcement made yesterday by the board of registrars.

LOWELL TEAMSTERS' UNION

Lowell Teamsters' union announces the acceptance of six new memberships. Several more applications for membership will be acted upon at the next business meeting of the local.

At last night's well-attended meeting of the organization, President Frank Horn being in the chair, a committee was named to confer with local co-distributors and report the result of the conference to the next meeting of the union.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN LOCAL MILK SUPPLY

The quality of milk sold in this city at the present time is nearly up to the seasonal average in solids and fat content, according to Milk Inspector Melvin Mast, although during several months past the quality has been far below the average of previous years.

During the summer months, the milk inspector said, there is always a drop in the quality of the milk due, it is believed, to the fact that dairy cows are fed mainly on grass at this time of the year.

Early this summer the milk quality dropped to the summer average, but instead of stopping there the tests disclosed that it kept getting lower.

Mr. Mast and his assistants conducted an investigation into conditions at nearby dairies but were unable to come to any definite conclusion as to the cause of the milk being so low in fat and solids content.

GIRL KILLED BY STORM IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Edna Murphy, three years old, was killed and several persons were injured late yesterday in a heavy wind and rain storm which raged in Washington for about an hour, attended by a marked drop in temperature after several days of oppressive heat.

Considerable minor damage was caused by the wind.

PIOULSKI SENTENCED

Former Functionary in Polish War Office Given Prison Sentence

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—The supreme court has imposed a prison sentence on M. Pioulski, formerly a functionary in the war office, upon his confession that he delivered a document concerning Polish mobilization plans to the Soviet legation here. Pioulski testified that he asked the legation for a visa to visit his parents in Russia, who were in dire need, but that the legation promised the visa only if he brought the mobilization document. After fulfilling his part of the bargain, he declared the Russians refused him the promised visa.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor of The Sun
Dear Sir:
As a union man, carrying a card in one of the strongest locals affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, I, in common with many of my fellow union members, was greatly surprised and incensed to see Sen. Charles P. Howard of Reading, an avowed opponent of organized labor, on the platform at the local Labor Day celebration.

Sen. Howard's record is well known to every union man in the state of Massachusetts and his presence as a guest on Labor's holiday has caused much speculation as to how he had the temerity to apparently sit there and rejoice at the achievements won by the organized workers over the objection and opposition of many office holders like himself.

The senator has vigorously opposed such measures as the old age pension, increased compensation for injured workmen, compensation for facial disfigurement of workers, the eight in eleven hours for women and many others.

For the benefit of many who cannot understand his appearance, I would like to inquire how he happened to be there. Was he invited by some political friend or did he invite himself to flout the organized workers?

It is interesting to note in your paper, which is and has always been fair to organized labor, I remain, Respectfully yours,
P. J. T.
A Local Union Man.

COMMISSION INSTRUCTS PRECINCT OFFICERS

Instructions for the conduct of the state primaries in this city next Tuesday were given precinct officers by members of the election commission at a meeting in city hall last evening. Each member of the election commission addressed the gathering and the keynote of their talks was "fairness." The precinct officers were urged to be at the polls prior to opening time and to remain until every ballot has been counted.

Commissioner Omer Allard, in his talk, mentioned the fact that in previous years there had been one or two cases of precinct officers drinking while on duty and that there be no case of this sort this year.

The polls, it was announced, will be open next Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. and the officers for which candidates will be named are: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General, United States congressman, senators for the 7th and 8th districts, state representatives in the 14th, 15th and 16th districts, two county commissioners, a register of probate, county treasurer, members of the state committee, delegates to the state convention and members of the ward committees.

CONTROL OF PILOTLESS PLANES BY WIRELESS

FARNBOROUGH, England, Sept. 3.—Enormous progress has been made in the control of pilotless planes by wireless through experiments carried out at the Royal Aircraft establishment, says the Evening News. Great secrecy is being observed by the air ministry regarding the experiments, which are regarded as of importance in view of the large measure of success already achieved.

CONCRETE BRIDGE FOR WILDER STREET

Following a conference with the mayor yesterday afternoon, the board of public service voted to have a new concrete bridge built in Wilder street over the Boston and Maine railroad tracks. This action was taken on the ground that repair of the present structure would cost almost as much as a new concrete bridge and would not be satisfactory.

Present at the conference in addition to the mayor were Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the public service board, Frederick F. Meloy and Fred Leary, members of the board; Stephen Kearney, city engineer; and Daniel Martin, city auditor.

In opening the conference Chairman Murphy outlined the present status of the matter. The Wilder street bridge, he said, has been opened up so that the steel work and under-structure could be viewed as a result of investigation by the engineer's office and the board, the latter had come to the conclusion that the erection of a new concrete bridge would be far more satisfactory than to attempt to repair the present structure.

Engineer Kearney presented a drawing of the proposed new bridge and estimated the cost at $10,000. Messrs. Meloy and Leary also went on record as in favor of a concrete bridge in this location.

Asked relative to the status of the department's finances, City Auditor Martin said the bridge appropriation balance at the present time is approximately $62,000.

Of this amount, the chairman of the board explained, over $40,000 would be necessary for the Alken street bridge reconstruction and he figured $3000 additional would be necessary over the bridge appropriation to complete the construction of a new bridge in Wilder street.

It was finally decided to go ahead and call for bids for a new concrete bridge in the Wilder street location with the mayor's approval and if more money was necessary transfer or some other means could be used to provide it.

During the course of the conference, the subject of whether the bridge should be closed to pedestrian traffic was discussed with the members of

LA FOLLETTE-WHEELER COMMITTEE MEETS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—A meeting of the committee, which is directing the La Follette-Wheeler campaign, has been called here tomorrow to canvass the political situation and map out procedure.

John M. Nelson, campaign manager and chairman of the committee, is not expected to attend but reports on various phases of campaign activities, forwarded from his Chicago headquarters, will be in the committee's play. Particular attention, it was said today, will be paid to the question of finances, which in the opinion of the committee is the most pressing problem it faces.

The board differing, but final action was postponed to Thursday's meeting of the public service board when a plan and specifications will be presented by Engineer Kearney and a call for bids for the bridge authorized.

MORIARTY CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

City Councilor Daniel Moriarty filed papers yesterday afternoon at the election commission office as independent candidate for representative in the sixteenth district. The papers bore a great many signatures, more than required by law and were certified and sent to the secretary of state's office last evening.

Councilor Moriarty previously filed papers as a candidate in the sixteenth district in accordance with the regulations of the election commission but the papers, with those of Paul Angelo and Alexander Rountree, were not received by the secretary of state until after the date set by law, although they were mailed in Lowell in due time.

LOWELL MEN SENTENCED

John Tsaffaras and Peter Courembis Get Jail Sentences in Arson Case

As a result of a fire in a building in Race street on the morning of March 6, John Tsaffaras and Peter J. Courembis, both of this city, yesterday afternoon were sentenced respectively to serve nine months and one year in the house of correction at Cambridge. Tsaffaras was sentenced on a charge of arson and Courembis on a charge of being an accessory to a felony.

In the midst of their trial, before Judge Richard T. Irwin in the local county court house the men changed their pleas to guilty and the court pronounced sentences just before adjournment at 4 p. m.

The government's case, composed of testimony by nearly a dozen witnesses had not been completed when a conference of counsel for the defendants held up the trial. Out of this conference came the decision to retract pleas of not guilty and lean upon the mercy of the court.

The conference followed discussion of a fine point of law, raised by Albert S. Howard, counsel for Courembis, when he objected to questions by Assistant District Attorney Bushnell relative to insurance policies carried by Courembis on the property he owned in Race street. Mr. Howard contended that inasmuch as there was no charge in the indictment against his client of burning his own property with intent to defraud an insurance company, such questions as the prosecuting officer wished to ask of a witness were not admissible and furthermore, if Courembis were not charged with an intent to defraud he had committed no crime either under the statutes or under common law.

The property in question in Race street was owned by Courembis and it was the government's contention that he and Tsaffaras conspired together to destroy it by fire in order that Courembis might collect $4000 in insurance. The government further alleged that Courembis offered money to Tsaffaras to do the job. At about the time the fire was discovered Tsaffaras was seen running away from the vicinity and later was arrested near the home of Courembis in Varnum avenue.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warm Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two of tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal-time because they know this wonderful outlandish food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia—especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

His hands were badly burned as was a coat sold to belong to him which was found near the Race street building. In passing sentence Judge Irwin said he felt that Courembis should be given the stiffer term, as he believed he was the originator of the idea to burn the building.

I Am Clean

ONE REASON FOR MY BEAUTY

By Edna Wallace Hopper

This is to the millions of women who wish to know how I have kept my youth and beauty after 35 years as a stage star. And how at a grandmother's age I manage to look like a girl.

One thing is this: I never use soap and water on my face. Soap removes just the surface dirt, and that has nothing to do with the skin.

Lucie Lantelme, the famous Parisian beauty, told me how she kept her skin so absolutely clean. Then I went to her experts and secured the same method.

Since then the method has come into world-wide use, but only through beauty experts. The result is so marvelous that all of them charged high prices for the product. Some charged $2, some $5, for the formula, so only the few know how much it can do.

Now I am placing this formula at every woman's call. I have named it my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fats, so the skin cannot absorb it. It simply penetrates the pores to the depths, then dehydrates. All the grime, all the dead skin and clogging matter comes out with it. Wash your face in the best way you know, then apply my Facial Youth. You will be amazed at the extra grime and clogging matter which comes out with it.

It is the first step in fine complexion—an absolutely clean skin. This method is the only way to get it. Once you know what it means you will never go without it.

I have placed this formula with all druggists, all toilet counters. The price is 75c despite the fact that others charge ten times as much. You need my Facial Youth. It is impossible, they tell me, to look your best without it. It is the only facial cleanser which really cleans.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you a sample, so long as it pleases you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.—Adv.

LEGION POST HOLDS ROUTINE MEETING

A routine meeting of the Lowell Post of the American Legion was held last evening at the legion headquarters in the Memorial Auditorium. George A. McCarthy, senior vice-commander presiding.

Comrade Robert J. Rutledge read a detailed report on the activities of the Lowell delegation to the state convention of the legion which was held in Pittsfield. The report was accepted. The name of William E. Coleman, deceased veteran was referred to the committee on streets and squares.

Considerable discussion arose on the subject of the annual legion ball which is to be held on Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11. Because of the absence of the members of the ways and means committee the matter was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.

FRATERNAL NEWS

A meeting of Past Presidents' association of Princess Lodge was held last evening at the home of P. P. Annie Northam in Sycamore street. There was a large attendance at the meeting and the association was host to Grand President Tryon of Manchester, N. H., and Past President Booth of Akron, Ohio. Both guests were called upon for remarks and spoke briefly on the work of the association throughout the country. It was voted at the business meeting to hold a fair and dance on Sept. 13.

Owing to the lack of fragrance in flowers used for table decorations in London hotels and restaurants, the blooms are being fortified by synthetic perfumes.

These Girls too Ill to Attend School

DAUGHTER OF MRS. VLEISHER
NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO

AT no age does a young girl need greater care than from the time she reaches the age of twelve years until womanhood is established. Many a woman has suffered years of misery, because as a girl she has been allowed to sit around with wet feet, lift heavy articles, overwork and overstudy. In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It is a root and herb medicine, contains nothing harmful and may be taken in perfect safety by any school girl.

This Mother's Letter and Daughter's Photograph of Interest to Every American Mother

NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO.—"My fourteen-year-old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound every month for weakness. One of her classmates in school who had the same trouble told her about it. She said: 'My mother makes me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So that day she came home and told me and we got some the next day. She took three bottles of it and never has to stay home from school now from sickness. She is strong and well. I am sure if any mother writes to me I will be glad to answer her letter."—Mrs. VLEISHER, Box 61, North Baltimore, Ohio.

Another Mother Tells What It Did for Her Daughter

DANDRIDGE, TENN.—"My daughter was not able to go to school for almost a year because of pains in her side and other troubles girls often have. I was just studying one day what I could give her that would help her when I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided I would get it for her. Since taking it she has gained to normal weight and goes to school all the time."—Mrs. GEORGE HINCHER, Dandridge, Tenn.

OUT OUR WAY

AMUSEMENT NOTES

One of the most compelling and primitive love stories ever told on the screen, is embodied in "The Covered Wagon"—Emerson Thayer's novel which was pictured by James Cruze for Paramount with a feature cast. The picture is the feature at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week.

The romance between Molly Wingate, "the belle of old Liberty town" and young Will Hutton, late of Montplaine's army in the war with Mexico, with a clouded record which brings about near disaster for the loves of both, is not only beautiful but inspiring. There is all the strength of passion, the rugged charm and the wilderness sweetness that characterized the country in the days of '48.

A bitter rival in the character of Sam Woodhull causes untold trouble, but in the end all comes right. The production is one of exceptional masterfulness. Thousands of persons appear in the varied scenes, fully one thousand being full-blooded Indians, all descendants of the savages who harassed the wagon trains as they crossed the plains during the gold rush period of 1848. There are many dramatic scenes, the chief of these being Indian attacks on the wagon trains, a real buffalo hunt and a thrilling prairie fire.

Popular prices prevail for this engagement of "The Covered Wagon." An "Our Gang" comedy and the latest International News complete the bill.

B. F. KEITH THEATRE
The Melstersingers, New England's most noted musical organization, is giving twice daily during the present week one of its unique programs of vocal music. The members of the organization, 12 in number, belong to three of the best known quartets in this part of the country, and their engagement by the Keith management is only for a limited period of time. The remainder of the bill holds many bright points, including the act of Johnny Sully and Muriel Thomas. It is a singing-dancing-comedy affair which holds unusual spots. Smith and Duane are a pair of Harmonizers and Wilson and LeCroz present "The White Collar Man," a diverting comedy. Jack Handley is one of the best of comedy jugglers and Jackie and Bille are two beautiful cockatoos. One of them talks. "The Code of the Wilderness" is the picture attraction.

WALTO THEATRE
It's a fine treat for a tired mail-

man to come home at night and soak his feet in a tub of hot water while his son plays him a tune on the fiddle. But it's rather hard on mother's clean floors if the music becomes so excitable that the mail man forgets his lanterns and starts to do a jig in the tub.

"The Mail Man," coming to the Rialto theatre tomorrow is full of amusing touches, so human in their comedy that they mirror one's own home life. It is in these splendid moments of relief from the upward trend of drama in the story that Emory Johnson, the director, excels.

Johnson knows the value of breaking into the thread of the plot when details begin to get heavy, to give the audience just a few minutes to digest what has gone before. This deft handling enables his spectators to follow easily each succeeding step in the story's development, and makes his productions highly pleasing.

Besides Ralph Lewis, who plays the title role, "The Mail Man" cast includes Johnnie Walker, Taylor Graves, Josephine Adair, Martha Sleeper, Rosemary Cooper, Virginia True, Boardman, David Kirby and Ingrid Kirkland. Most of these favorites appeared in support of Lewis in one of the former Johnson pictures, "The

RULES FOR OPERATION

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—New rules and regulations governing the operation and use of motor trucks are expected to be formulated in the near future, as a result of the passage by the last legislature of a law which became operative yesterday, the ninety days required by the constitution having expired Monday at midnight.

Under the new law, the state department of public works, through its division of highways, is permitted to make rules and regulations which have all the force of law. William F. Williams, commissioner of public works, stated yesterday that he will prepare in the near future a tentative draft of the new rules, on which a public hearing will be given just as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. After such hearing, the division may revise the tentative draft, or put it into effect without change, as it sees fit.

Section 31A.—The division, after a public hearing may make, and may alter, rescind or add to, rules and regulations for the reasonable and proper control and regulation of the transportation by motor vehicle of personal property over the ways of this commonwealth, except ways under the control of the metropolitan district commission. Said rules and regulations shall cover, among other matters which the division may deem necessary or desirable, the fixing of routes with respect to the physical capacity of such ways to carry traffic; the establishment of the maximum weight of loads per commercial motor vehicle and per inch of tire in contact with the surface of such ways; and the regulation of the rate of speed of such vehicles over such ways. Said rules and regulations and any changes therein shall be subject to approval, and shall take effect, in the manner provided by section six of chapter sixteen. Any person convicted of a violation of any rule or regulation made under this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars, and in case of a second or subsequent offense the registration of the vehicle or vehicles involved shall be suspended for such length of time as the division may determine.

SOCIETY OF MAYFLOWER
"DESCENDANTS MEET"

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 2.—Examination of the line of descent of those claiming ancestry from the Mayflower's passengers was provided for in an amendment proposed today at the tenth triennial general congress of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, which began its business sessions here today.

The constitution as it now stands provides that "no person shall be a member of the general society who is not a member in good standing of a state society." The amendments add the words:

"And no person shall be a member of a state society unless his or her line of descent shall have been approved by the historical general."

The election of officers, including a successor to Governor-General John Packwood Tilden of New York city, was to be taken up today or tomorrow. This evening the 130 delegates will be given a reception by the governor-general.

There was a sharp cut in the amount of taxes collected in July under the two main classifications—income and miscellaneous—as compared with July a year ago. The comparative income payments were $30,023, $24 for July and $35,102,010 for July, 1923. Miscellaneous payments dropped from $97,668,419 in July, 1923, to $80,701,261 last July.

LOEB AND LEOPOLD NOT
"AT HOME" TO WRITERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—"Dick" Loeb and "Babe" Leopold stood on their constitutional rights long enough yesterday to announce that henceforth they would not "be at home" to representatives of out-of-town newspapers or magazine writers.

Whereupon Warden Wesley Westbrook denied to all newspapermen and magazine writers, Chicago ones excepted, hospitality of the No. 6, Cook county jail, where are located the cells of the two prisoners.

Their inability to check up on stories appearing in out-of-town publications was declared to be responsible for their ultimatum. As a consequence of the warden's ruling the two confessed slayers of "Bobbie" Franks spent the quietest day of their three months' imprisonment.

BOSTON MAN ADDRESSES
LOCAL LIONS' CLUB

The weekly dinner and meeting of the Lowell Lions club was held yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. building. Dr. G. Forrest Martin presided.

King Martin announced that he had received an answer to his invitation to Melvin Jones of Chicago, International Secretary of the Lions, to meet and address the Lowell Lions club. Mr. Jones said in his letter to the Lowell club king that he would be in New York on business about the sixth of September and would make a special trip to Lowell to meet the local Lions.

Mr. John S. Caldwell of the New England Insurance Exchange of Boston was the speaker and guest of honor. Mr. Caldwell explained in detail the manner and methods by which the insurance rates are fixed throughout the state. Mr. Caldwell served on a committee appointed by the Lowell city government to investigate the fire conditions in Lowell about a year ago.

Mr. Caldwell urged the necessity of a now fire alarm system to replace the present system which is entirely inadequate. He also advised that the Lions co-operate with other societies and assist city officials to remove risks and to lift Lowell, which taken as a whole is in the middle of class B and to move it into class A. Only such an action will tend to lower existing insurance rates.

King Lion Martin announced that Captain Knight of the United States air service now stationed at Squantum will address the next meeting. Captain Knight is to change his preparations for the welcome of the army fliers now completing their around the world trip.

The Lowell Lions club unanimously endorsed the "National Defense Day" that has been set for Sept. 12.

URGES NEUTRALITY

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 2.—Advancing continuance of the policy of refusal to enter into any partisan political action, Patrick F. O'Meara, president of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, submitted his annual report to the 35th annual convention of the federation here today. Chief interest in the sessions of the convention which opened today, centered in an expected contest over an attempt to give the state federation's sanction of the national executive council in endorsing the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette, and Senator Burton K. Wheeler.

PHOTOS OF MISSING GIRL
ON BODY OF MAN

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 2.—On the body of Ernest Bucklin of Attleboro, which was found in the Pawtucket river yesterday were pictures of some girls and a clipping referring to Gladys Hurn, a 16-year-old girl who has been missing since Aug. 23. While the police say they believe Gladys Hurn's picture is among those found on the body, relatives of Bucklin say they are pictures of other girls. They account for the newspaper clipping by saying he was a friend of the Hurn family and was naturally interested in her disappearance. Bucklin, who was 40 years old, had been ill for some time and was said to be despondent. This missing girl is 16 years old.

SUCCESSOR OF CHURCH
FOUNDED BY ST. PAUL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Details of the uncovering of the site of Antioch of Pisidia, in Asia Minor, of the foundation of a large Christian church, which it is said may represent a successor of the church founded there by St. Paul, have been brought here by Professor Francis C. Kelsey of the University of Michigan, an expedition which is excavating under the direction of Professor David M. Roberts.

The existence of such an edifice had been previously known, but its date and character could only be determined by excavation. The church, one of the basilica type and more than 200 feet long. The nave was 180 feet long, measured from the middle of the apse to the doors, and approximately thirty-five feet wide. The aisles on either side of the nave had a width of 15 feet, and were separated from the nave by columns.

Eighteen inches below the floor level of the nave was found a mosaic floor which clearly belonged to a much earlier church. The floor contained several mosaic inscriptions in the Greek language, two of them referring to the Bishop Optimus, who lived about 375 A. D. The floor was carefully laid in small cubes of stone about a half inch square, arranged in geometrical pattern in five colors—red, yellow, blue, rose and white.

The significance of the discovery may be far-reaching in the opinion of the excavators. Professor Kelsey said:

"While the excavation has not yet been completed there is a probability that the congregation which had the resources to build such a massive church at such an early date represented the principal ecclesiastical organization in the city."

"It is natural to suppose that this church organization grew out of a group of the faithful converted by the preaching of Paul and that the structure itself may stand on the site of the house in which they first assembled or in which Paul preached."

"The excavations have not yet been completed there is a probability that the congregation which had the resources to build such a massive church at such an early date represented the principal ecclesiastical organization in the city."

POLICE ROUNDING UP
RADICALS IN TOKIO

TOKIO, Sept. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Police today were rounding up known radicals of this city and endeavoring to connect other followers of the late Sakae Ougui with the attack yesterday on General Masamune Fukuoka.

The revolver taken from Kyutaro Wada, who was arrested immediately after he had fired a shot at General Fukuoka, contained one blank and five blank cartridges. Only the blank cartridge was fired. The wadding from the cartridge struck General Fukuoka on the left shoulder blade and inflicted only a slight injury.

Wada, a known follower of Ougui, the socialist leader, who was killed by a police officer soon after the earthquake last year for delivering a radical address while Tokyo was under martial law, was seized by police before he could fire a second shot.

After his arrest, Wada declared to the police that he intended to kill General Fukuoka in revenge for Ougui's death, for which he believed him responsible.

WOMAN AND CHILDREN
HELD IN DEATH CASE

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Irene Ballenger, 39, twice divorced, was held with her two children today for questioning in connection with the killing of Clyde Keller, 45, a butcher employed in a shop in the same building in which Mrs. Ballenger lives.

Keller's body was found in an automobile truck in the rear of the shop. He had been struck over the head with a hammer which was found beside him.

The body had been dragged some distance and the trail led to the stairway of the Ballenger apartment, police declared.

CAR AND TRUCK COLLIDE,
25 PERSONS INJURED

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Twenty-five persons, many of them women and children, bound for an outing at Coney Island, were injured today when a trolley car collided with a large motor truck in Brooklyn. The motorman, James Diano, was so seriously injured that he may die.

The motor truck, owned by a milk company, was overturned but the driver escaped with only slight injuries. The car's forty passengers were thrown into panic by the crash. The vestibule was smashed and many were hurt by flying splinters and glass.

EX-PROF. HAU PARDONED

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Sept. 2.—Karl Hau, one-time professor of Roman law in George Washington university, Washington, D. C., who has been serving a life sentence here for the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Mollat at Baden-Baden in November, 1906, has been pardoned.

Trial of Hau in 1906 created a tremendous sensation because of his prominent social life in university circles in the United States and Germany. He was originally sentenced to death, but this sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment by the Grand Duke Baden. Some months after the trial began, Hau's young wife and daughter committed suicide by drowning themselves in a lake near Zurich, Switzerland.

The former professor intends to settle down in Berlin and to write his memoirs.

PRES. COOLIDGE WORKS ON BALTIMORE SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—With enthusiasm before him from his campaign manager, William M. Butler, and other political advisers, President Coolidge turned his attention today to work on his next speech, to be delivered in Baltimore Saturday morning at the unveiling of the Lafayette statue. Some consider it likely he will take this occasion to discuss at some length his foreign policies.

The president, meanwhile, has told advisers he considers it inappropriate to discuss political questions in his speech before the Holy Name society convention later this month. The address, he has pointed out, will be before a religious assembly and will be delivered under present plans, on Sunday.

At the same time, the republican nominee has indicated he may make out of town speeches from time to time during the campaign as occasion arises, though regarding the duties of his office here as requiring his first attention.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

Nervousness, melancholia, backache, headache and pain in the side are all nature's danger signals which indicate some ailment peculiar to a woman. When such warning symptoms appear women may avoid much pain and suffering if they will rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as its tonic, strengthening influence speedily removes the cause and restores the system to a healthy, normal condition.—Adv.

WILL BROADCAST NIGHT FOOTBALL GAME

What is believed to be a new feature of broadcasting will be introduced by WSAI, of the United States Playing Card company, Cincinnati, when "E. S. M." WSAT's sporting announcer, calls the plays direct from the playing field at the first night football game of the season. The game, in which the University of Cincinnati "Bearcats" meet the strong Kentucky Wesleyan team, will be called at 8 p. m. on Saturday, September 27. It is said that this will be the first night football game broadcast.

The playing field at James Gamble Nippert stadium of the University of Cincinnati will be lighted by a battery of huge searchlights which will enable players and spectators to follow every move of the game. A white football will be used in order that players may follow punts and passes more accurately.

In addition to broadcasting the game on this date, WSAI will also broadcast the game between Cincinnati and Georgetown college on the following Saturday, as well as all the home football games of the University of Cincinnati squad. The game with Georgetown will also be played at night.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR MERRIMACK PARK

Mr. Arthur LaBonte, manager at Merrimack Park, won another triumph in securing Paul Specht and his wonderful orchestra. Last night, 3230 people saw Paul Specht and his band go over the top with flying colors, and encore after encore had to be given to satisfy the eager dancing public. Today will be the last chance for the dance lovers to hear this wonderful band before they start on their western tour.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 14

As soon as Flip reached the shore he flopped right over on his side. It was very apparent that the dog had had a hard battle for he was all tucked out. Jack rushed to his side and started rubbing his limbs. Then he discovered one of Flip's legs was slightly out and bleeding.

"Gee," said Jack, "I wish I had some sort of a bandage with me. I'd like to wrap this sore leg up." The captain laughed and replied, "Well, sonny, you'd better learn how to make your own bandage. I'll show you how." Then the old man took hold of one of his shirt sleeves and ripped it off.

"That's the way to get a bandage," said the captain. And he wrapped the shirt sleeve around the dog's leg. Flip seemed to understand that he was being helped for he lay perfectly still until the captain had finished. Then the dog hopped up and licked the captain's hand. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"FOR THE LAND SAKES! IS THIS WHERE YOU ARE?"

"Hello," said Silver Wings to Nancy and Nick.

"Hello!" cried the twins, running and kneeling down beside the big stone on which the fairy had perched herself. "We're over so glad to see you."

"I'm glad, too," said Silver Wings. "Guess what I've got."

"The magic shoes!" shouted the twins, guessing that they were to have more adventures.

"That's what," said Silver Wings, holding them up.

And then she told them how much the little wood people needed clothes to go to school in. And how the Fairy Queen wanted them to help. And after that she gave them a lot of directions.

"Hokey!" cried Nick. "Won't that be jolly."

"But I can't sew so very well!" said Nancy doubtfully.

"Oh, that doesn't matter a bit," said Silver Wings. "Mister Snip Snap will help you. Besides he has magic needles and magic thread and I'm perfectly sure you won't have a lot of trouble."

"All right," said Nancy obligingly. "I'd love to do it. Besides we've such good friends with the Cracknuts family and the Cottonails and everybody. I'd like to see them all again. And unless we have the magic shoes on, they scarcely ever let us get a peep at them."

"Pul on your shoes now, then," said the fairy. "I must be going. I promised the Fairy Queen to go and sing a lullaby to the fairy babies in the milkweed cradles. Goodbye."

Away she flew, looking almost exactly like a bright blue dragon fly with silver wings. She disappeared in a patch of tall golden rod and blue wild-asters.

"I think that fall is almost as pretty as summer," said Nancy, looking after her thoughtfully. "The leaves will soon be getting red, mother says, and—"

"For the land sakes! Is this where you are?" said a voice beside them, a bit sharply. "Here, when the Fairy Queen telephoned for me to meet you at the end of the path. I got Casper Catbird to ride me there as fast as he could go. And I've been waiting and waiting. I got tired finally and thought I'd hunt you up, and here you are, talking about red leaves and summer and everything like that, when we ought to be working."

The twins were too much surprised to talk, even if they had had a chance, for there stood a funny little man, not only whose voice was sharp, but he looked sharp all over. But his eyes were kind.

"I'm Mister Snip Snap," he said. (TO BE CONTINUED)

BONUS FOR WOMEN WHO SERVED IN WAR

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Tomorrow State Treasurer James Jackson will affix his signature to six hundred checks, each in the sum of $100, and each bearing the name of a woman resident in this commonwealth who served in the war against Germany. This is the first payment of the state bonus to a woman (40). Although it is estimated that between 500 and 1000 women are entitled to receive the payment of $100 each, only about 600 have thus far applied.

WHEELER TALKS ON KU KLUX KLAN

Tells Portland, Me., Audience La Follette First to Oppose Organization

Davis Hesitated Before Doing
So and Dawes' Words Left
Doubt Where He Stood

Country Still Waiting for Pres. Coolidge to Abandon
Silence on the Subject

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 3.—Senator Wheeler, vice-presidential candidate on the third ticket, left Portland early today, pushing forward his speaking tour in New England with stops scheduled at Lowell, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. Rain disturbed and delayed his Tuesday efforts, but did not halt them entirely, and in his night address at Portland before such an audience as defied weather and delay, he again criticized the democratic and republican parties, and introduced the topic of the Ku Klux Klan.

Senator La Follette, his presidential candidate, was the first national constant, Senator Wheeler said, to declare plainly that the Ku Klux Klan was an organization adverse to American principles. John W. Davis, the democratic nominee, had hesitated long before doing so, he continued, General Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, has used in Maine such words on the subject that there was doubt as to where he stood, and the "country was still waiting for President Coolidge to abandon silence on the subject." Senator Wheeler said, he himself, when the senator stood for no organization which proposed to enforce its will illegally.

ACTIVE REVOLT AGAINST SOVIET

All of Georgia and Azerbaijan
Revolt Against Moscow
Regime

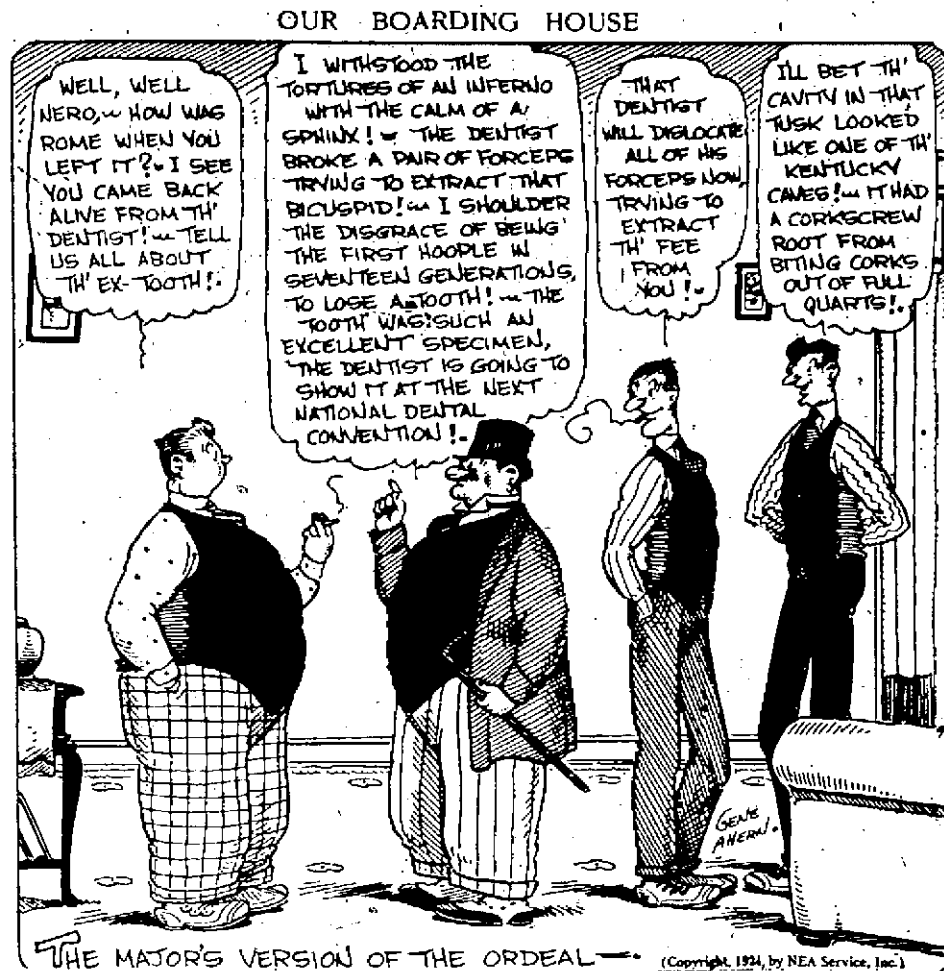

Half of Territory of Georgia
Conquered by Insurgents
—Bloody Conflicts

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—All of Georgia and Azerbaijan is declared to have been in active revolt against the Moscow Soviet regime for the last five days and half the territory of Georgia already has been conquered by the insurgents, according to representatives of Georgia here, who announced the receipt of this news today. The sanguinary struggle is continuing and fighting is occurring in the streets of Batum, their advice state.

Bloody Conflicts
LONDON, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—The Georgian representatives in London have received a despatch from Constantinople saying that Georgia and Azerbaijan were revolting against the soviet occupation forces and that bloody conflicts have occurred, many being killed or wounded and railway and telegraphic communication being interrupted.

British official circles were unable today to confirm these reports.
A despatch from Tiflis, capital of the Georgian republic, received by way of Moscow September 1, declared an attempt to overthrow the soviet regime in Georgia, made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic, had been put down. An official communique issued by the Georgian council of commissars claimed the movement had been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

MacDONALD AND HERRIOT ATTEND

Bring Weight of Britain and France to Support of League of Nations

Great Audience Fills Hall to Greet Premiers at Session
of League Assembly.

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister MacDonald of England and Premier Herriot of France, brought the weights of the governments of the British empire and the French republic to the support of the League of Nations when today they attended the session of the league's assembly.

A great audience which filled every inch of space in the hall gathered to greet the premiers and accord them
an enthusiastic welcome, but did not have the satisfaction of hearing either speech, for the two statesmen and outliers with their delegations and listened to the debate on the work of the league's council during the past year.
A feature of today's discussion was
Nansen of Norway, concerning America's traditional adhesion to the idea of arbitration. He emphasized the importance of the declaration of adherence to the world court of justice

MacDONALD AND HERRIOT ATTEND

Bring Weight of Britain and France to Support of League of Nations

Great Audience Fills Hall to
of League Assembly.

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister MacDonald of England and Premier Herriot of France, brought the weights of the governments of the British empire
and the French republic to the support of the League of Nations when today they attended the session of the league's assembly.

A great audience which filled every
inch of space in the hall gathered to greet the premiers and accord them
an enthusiastic welcome, but did not have the satisfaction of hearing either
speech, for the two statesmen and out-
liers with their delegations and listened to the debate on the work of the league's council during the past year.
A feature of today's discussion was
Nansen of Norway, concerning America's traditional adhesion to the idea

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 3.—
Captain John G. Winant, Concord financier was conceded the republican nomination for governor at an early hour today by his chief opponent, Major Frank Knox, publisher of the Manchester Union and Leader, when the returns from 217 of the 234 electoral districts gave Winant a plurality of 2084. The totals were: Winant 18,695; Knox 16,612.

In the republican nominations for congressional representatives, Fletcher Hale of Laconia led in the first district and Congressman Edward H.
Wagon in the second. Senator Henry W. Keyes of Haverhill was renominated without opposition.
The democrats had no contests for nomination for governor or for congressional delegates.

Major Knox, in a message of congratulations, declared that "the important thing now is to elect the entire republican ticket" and "to stand standard bearers of the party."

URGE GENERAL DISPLAY OF NEW ENGLAND MADE PRODUCTS

Windows in Vacant Stores Recommended as Suitable for Street Advertising Purposes—Direct Appeal to Lowell Manufacturers to Display Home Made Goods

Lowell manufacturers who have responded with commendable unity of action in the call to observe "All New England Week," from Sept. 15 to 20, today received from John S. Lawrence, chairman of the committee supervising the New England campaign, the following personal letter:

"The committee in charge of ascertaining locations for the display of New England-made products, finds a number of windows in vacant stores on the main streets of numerous New England cities and towns, available for such exhibits during the week of Sept. 15 to 20—some at nominal prices, others without charge.

"If you have in your city or town manufacturers who wish to secure use of one of these stores during New England week, will you either advise the New England week committee immediately or ask the manufacturers to send their applications in immediately.
Reservations should be made in order of receipt.

"The All New England Week" committee suggests that your committee offer and award three ribbons of different colors, as first, second and third prizes for the best window displays in Lowell of New England-made goods during New England week.

Chairman Lawrence forwards an interesting summary of some of the work that has been performed during the past two weeks in spreading "New England propaganda" to all quarters of the six states. Extensive advertising campaigns are being conducted by the distribution of booklets, flyers, tags and buttons. A brief summary of the scope of some of the progressive campaigns now being waged in cities like Lowell, is presented as follows:

Over 1000 advertising cards featuring "New England Week" are now on display in the street cars. New posters are designed nearly every week.
More than 1,000,000 advertising stickers have been ordered and have just begun to be used.

About 300,000 bottles carrying the message of "New England Week" have already been printed and are being distributed by public utility corporations, banks, department stores, etc.

Quantities of tags of assorted sizes and bearing the necessary labels, have been sent to all chambers of commerce local committees and many individuals.
The "New England Week" colors of pine tree green and oak leaf red are being generally used for decorations.

A special "N.E.W." worker button is now ready with pledge cards. It is expected that these will be worn by more than 100,000 people within a short space of time.

No publicity would be complete without radio. Stories relating to "New England Week" are being broadcasted day and night.

Every active New England manufacturer has taken advantage of this opportunity to stimulate distribution of products. Some are staging special window displays in retail stores.

The Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor has unanimously passed an emphatic resolution of this movement.

During the observance of "New England Week," many hotels will feature New England foods, specializing in fruits, vegetables and fish. Special "New England menus" will be the rule each day.

The Lawrence letter of survey and outlining some of the prospective work ahead, closes with the following cheerful prediction:

"This, we believe, is the beginning of a new New England era. A lot of hard work lays ahead, but it can be done, and those who work for a prosperous New England are also working for a prosperous United States, as the two go together."

ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY BY NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY COMMITTEE

Second Hearing of Leaders in Local Preparedness Campaign Disposes of Much Important Business in Paving Way to Formation of City's Official Program

"Preparedness means national security."

That was the four-word keynote of the second patriotic rally of leading citizens called together again last evening for the purpose of enlightening the inhabitants of Lowell in an expression of loyalty on "National Defense Day," Friday, Sept. 12.

Inclement weather conditions failed to affect the attendance, or dampen the ardor of the representatives of many Lowell civic, military, fraternal, social, industrial and religious organizations ever active in the municipality at large. Progress was made immeasurably in the advancement of the city-wide campaign through the expression of last night's thousands of men, women and children in the proposed "Defense Day" demonstrations in the public streets, in halls, in public grounds, in institutions of learning and in the homes of Lowell's plain citizenry.

Among the well-known citizen volunteers now actively engaged in promoting Lowell's effort to show and prove the measure and strength of Lowell preparedness for national defense in time of war, and who look important parts last night in formulating program plans and naming additional working committees, were the following:

Major Dana Palmer, general chairman of Lowell's "National Defense Day" committee; Maj. Percy E. Wilson of Organized reserves; Secretary James A. Walsh; Commander Colin C. Macdonald of Lowell; Capt. Clarence E. Legion; John P. Urban and Maj. Fred Estes; Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of Lowell chamber of commerce; Sgt. Frank Kimball of local U.S. army recruiting station; Benjamin Harrington, instructor, Clarence E. Towne of Lowell Y.M.C.A.; Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of Lowell public schools; and Mrs. James C. Usher.

Numerous other citizens were present to give their personal support to the general committee's "Defense Day" programs in the making. A great deal of work on "the preliminaries" has already been accomplished, but there is much to do. The sentiment of numerous workers in the "Defense Day" cause, as expressed last night, augurs well for "the day" in Lowell.

The actual business meeting of the "Defense Day" committee, was called to order shortly after 8 p. m. Maj. Palmer presiding and Secretary Walsh reading a detailed report of the first meeting of local citizen enthusiasts, held last week informally. Last night's meeting was called "informal" as well, the general committee being anxious, before taking final action on any important measure, to secure the best opinions of leading Lowell citizens on each and every question involved in the impressive celebration departure now in the perspective.

Secretary Walsh described "the birth" of the great movement at a special meeting recently called by Lowell post 37, American Legion, to consider the matter of calling public attention to "National Defense Day" and to see if some simple community wide program could be devised by which all the people of the city could take part in the national mobilization of all the government's strength as a preparedness action preliminary to summons to war.

The Legion secretary reviewed the successful efforts made by Local 37 to secure financial support from the city of Lowell, the mayor promising the sum of $500 in municipal aid to meet necessary expenses of the creditable project involved. The growth of the movement to its present glory was admirably described by Secretary Walsh, who explained that the general organization is now known officially as: "Lowell Citizens' Committee for National Defense." This title will be retained until the last of the public observances in Lowell on Sept. 12 are concluded.

The secretary announced that more than 200 communications have been issued to local organizations of all categories, patriotic and fraternal, inviting co-operating assistance in the general committee's plans.

Plans Are Explained
Major Wilson, who has been appointed official representative of the Organized Reserves in the "Defense Day" preliminaries, was invited to explain some of the plans that have already been formulated. He responded with a clear-cut delineation of some of the advance programs with which not all of the general committee members are familiar.

The major explained that "National Defense Day" has three purposes. First, it is planned to check-up, so to speak, on the condition of the nation's line of defenses in time of war. Second, the coming demonstration on Sept. 12 next, is simply a "paper mobilization," to "stir up" interest in preparedness and to show what preparedness really means and stands for.

It was explained that the day's programs in Lowell would be very simple withal. Volunteers would have to "serve" only about two hours, and this service is not by any means obligatory upon any citizen of Lowell. An opportunity to display one's patriotism and renew allegiance to flag and country in peace, and showing what results would accrue, even in time of war's alarm, is the "National Defense Day" program in a nutshell.

The "paper units" and the organized reserves were duly explained by the major. If Lowell could mobilize every man affiliated, some 5000 Lowell citizens would salute the colors on the day of mobilization, as was stated last evening. The idea would be to show just what Lowell can produce by its "units" in line of defense.

but they must not be too young. Folks willing to admit that they are slightly more than 45 years of age, will find places waiting for them to fill in the parade's divisions to be announced in the near future.

As a matter of fact, the "make-up" of the parade has not yet been seriously considered by the committee working on its details. The committee will attend to the matter at the next meeting, on Friday evening of this week.

At this point in last night's busy meeting, white cards with tiny red strings attached for buttonhole knotting, were distributed by Maj. Wilson and aids. The cards were a surprise to some of the program-booster, and they were read closely. The major had to explain. They read as follows:

"This certifies that _____ has expressed his loyalty to our country by associating himself with _____ on _____ day, Sept. 12, 1924, at Lowell, Massachusetts."

The general committee also distributed small blue posters for use on automobiles. Drivers may show their patriotism by displaying same on windshields. They take up very little space on the glass, yet are readable many yards away, owing to the elongated, heavy, black-face type used in the printer's make-up of the announcement, which reads as follows:

"BACK-UP 'BLACK JACK'!"
Lowell Citizens' Committee

Major Palmer discussed with several members of the rallying workers last night, the campaign to "circulate" Lowell in various ways, advertising "National Defense Day" and also helping to enlist the co-operation of more public-spirited citizens, some of whom possibly have not been informed at length about the prospective patriotic observance and its real meaning. In Springfield, 50,000 public notices and enrollment tags have been issued by patriotic committees who are making a strikingly elaborate campaign already and planning to enlarge the present program scope if possible. The "tip" from Springfield was given last night to Lowell citizens just to show how generally and how loyally "National Defense Day" is to be celebrated in communities large and small.

Two eager delegates representing officially local Carpenters' union, No. 49, were interested visitors at the citizens' rally last evening. Both union workmen declared that the objects of the Sept. 12 mobilization were praiseworthy and that the plans of the general committee as outlined at last night's informal meeting open to everyone interested and anxious to help, should be loyally supported. The campaign literature distributed at last night's rally, was read by the delegates, who asked that some of the auto "display" and pledge cards be given to them for fellow members' personal in Carpenters' hall last evening. The union organization held a business meeting there and sent the delegates to the "Defense Day" rally for information. Major Wilson, Major Palmer and Commander Macdonald were among the committee members who explained to the carpenters the exact meaning and reasons for the coming preparedness exhibition.

Considerable further business was transacted last evening before adjournment until Friday evening. Committees reported that numerous tags and markers indicating units in the coming parade, were necessary, and considerable printing would have to be contracted for. Some members thought that more funds than the municipal $5000 contribution would be needed. There would be additional expense later on, all agreed.

Secretary Walsh reported that the problem of securing band music for the street parade, must be solved on the coming of the Fifth Infantry, U. S. A. crack band of 75 musicians, advised came yesterday to the effect that the "Dandy Fifth" had been transferred from Camp Devens to Portland, Me., and leaves Ayer on "National Defense Day" en route to new location. If this transfer had not been ordered on that date, Lowell citizens would have been able to see and hear one of the finest military bandsmen's organizations in the service of the regular fighting arms.

Maj. Wilson suggested that at least two band organizations would be helpful in the parade line. It will be possible to secure a battalion of rifle companies from Camp Devens, to appear in the Lowell street demonstration, Capt. Parker reported. The service of the troops will be without cost, but the Devens stalwarts must be given meals while they remain in Lowell. Payment for train fare to Lowell and return must be made by check in advance. It was announced by Major Parker that the printing committee reported about $30 spent thus far for necessary material to be used in promoting and carrying on the preliminary work of the coming celebration.

Lowell High School Band
Succession was made that the Lowell high school band be invited to participate in the parade, and Supt. of Schools Molloy's opinion was asked about this arrangement. Mr. Molloy said that the school band members would undoubtedly gladly co-operate, as well as all school authorities, in every way possible.

It was voted unanimously to secure at least three companies of military troops from Camp Devens, for the Sept. 12 street parade. The discussion that followed the bringing up of the topic relative to the need of noticeable public speakers for "National Defense Day" was participated in by several committees. Among the distinguished names mentioned was that of Cardinal O'Connell. Secretary Walsh announced, however, that the cardinal would probably be in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 12, 13 and 14, in attendance at a most important convocation of Holy Name societies to be held in the capital city on the dates named. It would, of course, be impossible to secure the reverend cardinal to speak at Lowell on "National Defense Day."

Among the names suggested for the speakers' list at the Memorial Auditorium ceremonies to be held in the evening, were those of James D. Williams, Boston Transcript editor; Rev. Isaac Smith and Rev. Henry J. Thomas, Lowell clergymen, and former Mayor Peter P. Sullivan of Worcester.

The committees came to no decision in the matter, but expect to have a list of prospective speakers prepared for consideration next Friday night. Considerable discussion followed the bringing up of the Memorial Auditorium mass meeting plans, now merely in the perspective. Impressive patriotic ceremonies are planned, possibly to be staged on the steps and the main plaza of the auditorium in the early evening. Massing of many American flags will be a feature, with singing patriotic anthems. Supt. Molloy gave the committee last evening many very valuable suggestions, for which he was generously thanked at the close of the rally.

Mr. Molloy thought that a monster chorus of school children might be organized for the flag ceremonies and trooping of the colors, with Mr. Blunt prepared to assist in the musical program under contemplation. It is hoped that a specially feature the mass meeting that immediately follows the street parade.

If darkness sets in early and the street parade is not concluded until after sunset, the committee will have a portable searchlight in readiness to flood the Auditorium main entrance and the steps, as well as a large score in tribute to the stars and stripes, may not be disarranged or cancelled entirely.

It was noted at last night's meeting that no representative of the Lowell police department was present. The suggestion was made, and unanimously approved, that a committee comprised of members of the police department be organized forthwith. Deputy Hugh Downey was designated to represent the department in the coming day.

Colin C. Macdonald, chairman of the press and publicity committee, reported that energetic efforts have been made to arouse public sentiment in the "National Defense Day" campaign, and with marked success thus far, he believed. He outlined some of the publicity programs now in embryo form, but to be announced in detail very soon.

Exercises in Schools
Supt. of Schools Molloy took the floor just before the close of the meeting, and said that he had been studying a plan of his own construction, by which every public school in Lowell may observe in very proper fashion "National Defense Day" without any extensive program preparations or arduous work in advance.

Mr. Molloy would select some definite time on Sept. 12, when the schools are in session, possibly 10 o'clock in the morning. This will be on Friday. Teachers could call the children to order for a short space of time, and read a brief statement explaining the true meaning of preparedness for war and "National Defense Day" emphasizing the fact, of course, that preparedness means national security at all times.

The school superintendent suggested that the statement be prepared in advance—that the same statement be read in each Lowell schoolroom, and that it be brief and patriotic. Said Mr. Molloy further, last evening: "I believe sincerely in this plan by which all school children of the city, without extra effort or tedious preparation, may observe 'National Defense Day' in an impressive way, and yet only by employment on the part of school instructors of but a simple, direct effort."

"I would suggest that the brief statement that the school instructors read to their pupils in every class room in the city on Friday next, be printed in the Lowell morning and afternoon newspapers, and read, nearly or Thursday of the same week. The newspapers would reach countless homes, of course, and there is no better way to spread this statement to every section of the city, so that the readers may become familiar with it. This includes the school children, who will read it, also."

"On Friday, the statement would be read in each schoolroom—the climax of the observance of 'National Defense Day' in that branch of the municipality's patriotic foundation support."

Mr. Molloy would have the reading of the brief essay started at the same hour in all Lowell institutions for the teaching of youth.

Chief Marshal For Parade
The question of choosing a chief marshal for the street parading column, was left in abeyance, after the name of Capt. Joseph A. Molloy had been presented. Major Palmer, however, declined to allow his name to be used. The problem of selecting the chief marshal will probably be settled at the next rally on Friday evening.

The parade committee may handle the details covering the appointment. Maj. Wilson suggested that a budget committee be appointed to handle the distribution of all funds, and Commander Macdonald also strongly favored the proposed invocation. General Chairman Major Palmer, delegated to appoint a budget board of three, selected Secretary-Manager Geo. F. Wells, Benjamin Harrington and Albert Berkenor.

The budget committee members and the permanent chairman of the general committee, will be empowered to employ a clerk at a salary. The second citizens' rally adjourned at 9:45 a. m., all present frankly pleased with the success thus far attained in promoting a comprehensive program for the proper observance of "National Defense Day" in Lowell, on Sept. 12. That Lowell stands very high in the list of those New England municipalities now leading the way, is an absolute fact.

LOWELL TEAMSTERS' UNION
Lowell Teamsters' union announces the acceptance of six new memberships. Several more applications for membership will be acted upon at the next business meeting of the local. At last night's well-attended meeting of the organization President Frank Horn being in the chair, a committee was named to confer with local coal distributors and report the result of the conference to the next meeting of the union.

Division of Marine and Seamen's Insurance Passes Out of Existence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—When the division of marine and seamen's insurance of the Veterans' bureau automatically passed out of existence today its books showed a net profit of more than $17,000,000, although it had paid claims totalling $29,197,331. The $50,000,000 appropriated by congress as an operating fund remains intact.

The division was created ten years ago to insure American merchant vessels and their cargoes against the hazards of war.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN LOCAL MILK SUPPLY

The quality of milk sold in this city at the present time is nearly up to the seasonal average in solids and fat content, according to Milk Inspector Melvin Master. Although during several months past the quality has been far below the average of normal years.

During the summer months, the milk inspector said, there is always a drop in the quality of the milk due, it is believed, to the fact that dairy cows are fed mainly on grass at this time of the year.

Early this summer the milk quality dropped to the summer average, but instead of stopping there the tests disclosed that it kept getting lower. Mr. Master and his assistants conducted an investigation into conditions at nearby dairies but were unable to come to any definite conclusion as to the cause of the milk being so low in fat and solids content.

Within the past several weeks there has been a gradual change for the better, the milk inspector said, and he expects the quality will reach the average for this time of the year, very soon.

Eighty per cent of the milk supply for Lowell, according to figures computed at the inspector's office, comes from neighboring towns and the remaining twenty per cent is furnished by dairies in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Of the eighty per cent supplied by nearby towns, twenty-two per cent comes from Dracut, twenty per cent from Chelmsford, and the remainder from Billerica, Andover, Littleton, Pelham, N. H., and other towns within a twenty mile radius of this city.

WANT CARRIER FOR PELHAM MAIL

The abandonment of car service between Lowell and Pelham and more recent post office changes in Pelham is causing considerable inconvenience and hardship to the Pelham people. Not only are they forced to connect with Lowell or other outside cities by automobile but now their mail service is seriously disrupted. Formerly when electric cars ran between Lowell and Pelham it was the custom to send mail to the Lowell central postoffice and then to transport it to Pelham under the care of the railway company. When Pelham was cut off from Lowell, mail was sent to Nashua and then via street car to its destination.

After a conference with Pelham postmaster, Mr. Delisle of the Lowell office has announced that he will accept bids from any reputable firm or individual for the transportation of United States mail between Lowell and Pelham. Two double trips a day will be necessary, one in the early morning and another in the late afternoon. The messenger chosen must be a resident of either Lowell or Pelham. For further information apply at the Lowell or Pelham postoffice.

was found lying at the bottom of the cellar stairs with numerous superficial cuts and bruises. He told a burglar had shot Noble as he entered the house and had then attacked him.

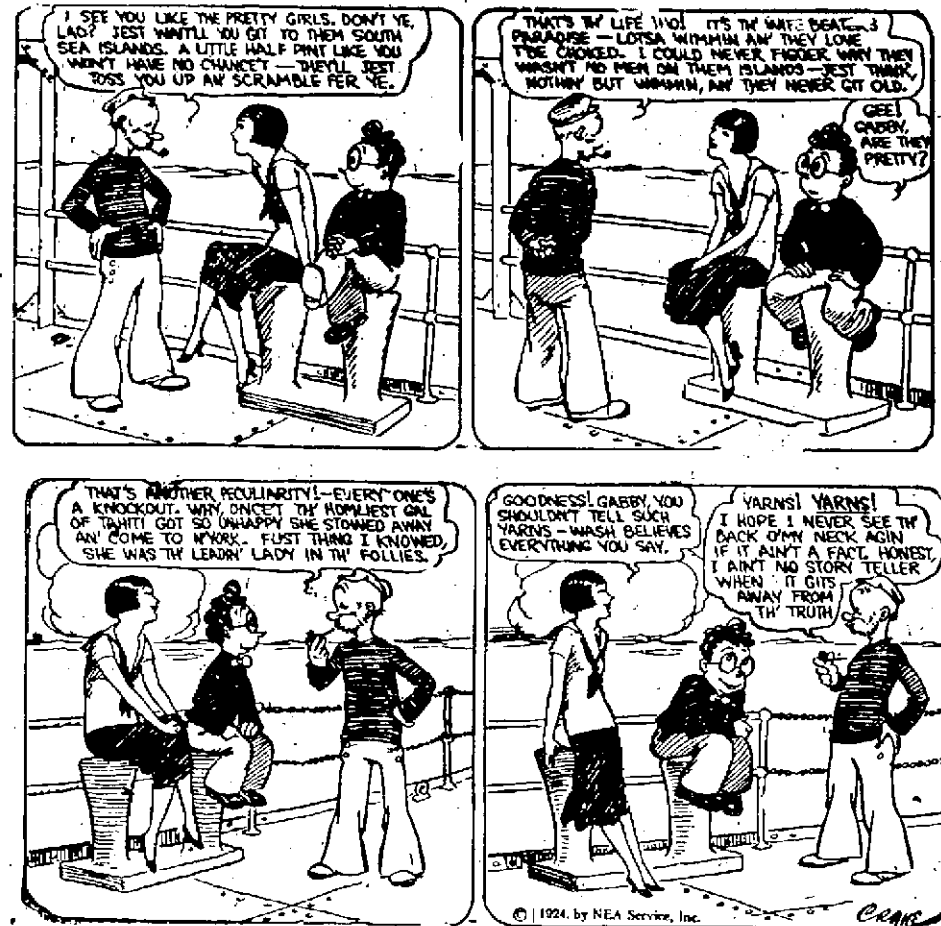

Police investigation, however, developed discovery in the pantry of an Austrian rifle of the same calibre as the fatal bullet, and led to the doctor's arrest on the charge of murder. Police officials said Thierry had shot down Noble as he entered the door, then mutilated himself.

While at the hospital, Dr. Thierry attempted suicide by severing an artery, and later confessed to a Middlesex county physician that for years he had been a confirmed ether addict.

Assistant District Attorney Warren L. Bishop has announced that a motive has been clearly established the nature of which has not been made known. Dr. Thierry was found to have been named by Noble as the beneficiary of insurance policies totalling about $17,000. Noble's wife died of pneumonia last April.

LEOPOLD'S WILL MADE PUBLIC

That Chicago Boy Contemplates Possibility of Death Sentence Evincing by Letter

Bequeaths to Field Museum
Choice of Five Objects in Ornithological Collection

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The last will and testament of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., joint confessor with Richard Loeb of the kidnapping and murder of Bobby Franks, has been made public.

That Leopold contemplated the possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of Judge Caverly, who now has the murder case under consideration, is evidenced by a letter he has mailed to Clarence S. Darrow, defense counsel.

The letter bequeaths to the Field museum first choice of any five objects in Leopold's ornithological collection.

Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose of any three articles after the museum has made its selection.

Third, the museum is given its choice of any of Leopold's birds, minerals or transcripts.

In the letter Leopold asked Darrow to notify the hotelkeeper as soon as possible and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing argument. Leopold wrote that he had been content to die before he heard that argument but that after hearing it he wanted to live. The will was scratched out under a county jail are light on paper supplied by the jailer.

Leopold also has completed plans for attempts to place the veil shrouding death, it is believed. Although he is an admitted atheist, he says he will not cast out any suggestions on the possibility of an after life until he has had an opportunity to demonstrate its invalidity, so he has prepared ten questions which he plans to answer by communicating with friends on earth should he die on the gallows.

Five Cooks Arrested Here On Their Way to Devens

Central and Market street about 10 o'clock last night by Patrolman Patrick Leavitt, who stopped the machine in which they were riding to ascertain the reason for going along without lights. When he asked the driver of the car, William Zachine, for his license and registration, neither certificate could be found. Sergeant Kiclow and Patrolman Paul Spillius arrived on the scene in time to discover seven one-gallon cans of alcohol in the rear seat together with one quart of whiskey. Zachine was arrested for operating a motor vehicle without license or registration, while his four companions were booked for drunkenness.

At the police station Patrol Agent Walter Sullivan was called into the case and asked the liquor, as well as the Chandler touring car belonging to Zachine. The latter denied all knowledge of the liquor, saying it must have been placed in his car while he was getting a hair cut in a law-rented hair shop.

Attorney Albert S. Howard appeared as counsel for the soldiers in district court this morning. Because of the fact that they are to be arraigned in federal court on the liquor violation tomorrow, the drunkenness charges against four of the defendants were dropped on file here. Zachine's license and registration were produced in court. They were sent down from Camp Devens this morning, and defendant was fined $5 on each complaint.

Flower of Romance Fades In The District Court

of the incident, and he in turn, notified the police, with the result that Officers Daniel Lynch, Daniel Brennan, Francis O'Loughlin, and James Brennan, made a hasty trip to the scene and placed Jette under arrest.

In court this morning, the girl admitted that she had been keeping company with Jette, but that she had later when he insisted in carrying a revolver for "a secret purpose," he said. She almost collapsed on the witness stand as she solemnly told of being suddenly confronted with Jette and the revolver when she went to her bedroom about six o'clock last evening. "He was hiding in a closet," she said, "and when I saw the door open I thought it was caused by the wind and paid no attention to it. It opened a second time, however, and I went to see what it was. I was met with the revolver. He pointed it straight at me and told me not to say a word. Then pointing to the bed, he told me, 'I was not going to sleep there to-night.'"

When Jette was placed under arrest, the officers failed to find any trace of the gun. Later, the girl's father discovered the weapon, together with cartridges, under a piano Jette pleaded guilty to carrying the gun, but not guilty to threatening. He said he intended giving the gun to the girl last night as she had requested he do so on a previous occasion. Her reason, he said, was simply to relieve him of it. His explanation for entering the house while the occupants were away was that he was afraid the girl was going to "throw him over."

SPANISH WAR VETERANS' LABOR DAY OUTING

Lowell Spanish War Veterans' annual Labor day outing conducted at Martin Luther picnic grounds, was a huge success, efficient handling of all arrangements by committee of long experience in supervising similar affairs, being responsible for an outing long to be remembered.

The holiday festival in the open was conducted by active members of Gen. Adolph Ames camp, U.S.W.V. Able committees also handled the entertainment attractions, the commissary department specializing in inviting foods and delicacies of the season.

Mrs. Sarah McBride, of long-established reputation in the home culinary department, had full charge of all refreshments served at the outing. She was ably assisted in the commissary by Commander John F. McBride and Quartermaster Prescott. The latter acted as chief pump-handle expert. Mrs. Elizabeth McBride distributed the tonics provided for one and all twice over and then some.

Mrs. Rose Coleman, Mrs. Thomas Connie and Mrs. Viola Pingree acted as cooks and kitchen police in a way that would put a good many real army kitchen chefs to shame. Frank Nelson acted as fire-builder and water-tender, as well as clerk of the sports program conducted later in the open. George Everett made the ships fly when he swung his axe in the wood-chopping contest.

C. L. Pingree was superior of the sports program, each event being enjoyable. John Jacob Rogers' cigars were distributed to all males present.

The prize winners in the outing athletic events were, as follows: Rush Pingree, first in three-throwing-the-needle contest; Pauline Harrington, second; Miss Landry, third; Miss Duffey, fourth. Running races for girls brought several contestants. Miss Harrington won first place in the race for large girls. Miss Landry captured second position and Miss Duffey, third, with Miss Duffey trailing again.

Miss M. Grady won the race for medium-sized girls. Entrants included Misses E. Landry, A. McLean and C. Sagrue. Miss Rita Prescott defeated Misses R. Carey, A. Riley and M. Dempsey in an exciting race for thicket girls.

The race beat them all, with J. Donnelly No. 1, M. Carey No. 2, A. Morrin in third place, R. Carey fourth and Rita Prescott fifth.

Civil War Has

Actually Begun

Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, rival of Chang Tso-lin, military dictator of Manchuria, is planning a northern expedition with his Hunan, Kiangsi and Kwangtung troops.

Reports from Mukden province to the same news agency say that two Manchurian armies are moving toward the great wall from two directions.

Major Battle Tomorrow
Although a large number of troops are engaged in the conflict, reports received here from Chekiang say that no material advantage has been gained by either side.

It is said that the engagement today is preliminary to a major battle at Kiangsi tomorrow, 12 miles from Shanghai.

According to information given out from Linghsia military headquarters the first shots were fired at Hwangtu by the northern troops after Chi Shieh-Yuan had moved large reinforcements to Hwangtu.

The eastern column is reported to be proceeding along the Hsiao River with Changhsien, a city 110 miles north-east of Peking, as its immediate objective, while the western column is moving towards Chinchow.

New Hats for the Fall

The fall hat is ready to make its bow to the waiting world of women, and here are three of its most subtle interpretations.

These models, you will notice, each present a new line in millinery and are actually new styles.

The high-crowned mushroom shape of black beaver cloth with a moiré ribbon stick-up and two birds' heads for trimming is the shape that is taking the place of the cloche.

Next from Paris is the black satin model with the sunshiny black velvet bow and the upturned brim. There is a suggestion of the Directoire here.

which will probably develop with the season.

The upturned brim of the beaver cloth model gives something of the effect of the tam-o'-shanter, but it is a little more tailored and much smarter. The broad ribbon bow across the back adds to the youthfulness.

indicated the opposing armies of Lu Yung-Hsiang and Chi Shieh-Yuan had clashed, official confirmation of the beginning of hostilities came today from General Ho Feng-Lin, defense commissioner of Shanghai.

100,000 Refugees in Shanghai
Before train service was declared suspended yesterday on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad, more than 100,000 refugees poured into Shanghai, the objective city in the conflict from the Chinese military viewpoint, and today, under the protection of foreign government forces, they awaited the outcome of civil warfare.

A messenger who reached Shanghai today from Quinsan told of hearing sporadic firing in the vicinity of Quinsan, the point where the forces of the rival factions were scheduled to meet along the line of the Shanghai-Nanking railway.

More than 20 foreign war craft were assembled in the harbor at Shanghai awaiting any action on the part of the rival military governments which would place Shanghai in the line of fire and the lives of foreigners in jeopardy. On land, the Shanghai volunteer corps and the Shanghai defense unit, which included British and American military units, were prepared to take up defensive fighting position on the boundaries of the foreign quarter.

100,000 on Both Sides
Besides the land forces of 100,000 on both sides, the so-called Independent Chinese fleet, enlisted in the service of General Lu Yung-Hsiang, was reported anchored in the Whangpoo river opposite the Kiangnan arsenal, which is one of the objectives of the forces of Chi Shieh-Yuan.

The Pukien warcraft was reported in the Chusan archipelago, off the coast southeast of Shanghai, today, ready to intercept any aid which might be sent to the Kiangnan arsenal.

Reports from Mukden province to the same news agency say that two Manchurian armies are moving toward the great wall from two directions.

worse for their adverse experience yesterday when they had to fight their way through fog, rain squalls and a severe head wind on Mr. James J. Austin's hop from Ice Tickle, Labrador, across the Labrador peninsula to the Newfoundland town. They were in fine spirits in anticipation of their return later this week to the soil of the United States.

Both Lt. Lowell H. Smith and Lt. Erik H. Nelson declared that their long flight across the North Atlantic from Reykjavik, Iceland, to Fredericksburg, Greenland, had been the longest and most difficult of the journey around the world.

time, the airmen passed over the cruiser Milwaukee, stationed about 100 miles from Hawkes Bay.

Along the course of the flight, the destroyers Charles Auburn, Coughlin and McFarland were stationed to direct the aviators as they passed overhead, giving them correct headings, and to render assistance, if necessary. The destroyer Barry, netting at station ship at Pictou, was held in readiness to steam at full speed to the assistance of the fliers if aid was needed. The Canadian destroyer Patriot also was prepared for this purpose.

All the other ships on station were instructed to follow at 25 knots along the route for two hours after the passing of the planes.

One in Boston Tomorrow

HAWKES BAY, N. F., Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press).—Coming down out of the north, with worst stages of the long journey behind them, the American army world fliers are planning to close the remaining gaps between them and "home" in quick order.

With good flying weather Lieutenant Lowell Smith and his companions here to get away today for Pictou harbour, Nova Scotia, 420 miles to the southwest and to continue on toward Boston tomorrow, with a stop at St. John, New Brunswick, for fuel. The distance from Pictou to St. John is roughly 200 miles and from St. John to Boston 320 miles.

At Pictou the aviators will find awaiting them Lieutenants Leigh Wade and H. H. Ogden, whose plane, the "Boston," was wrecked after a forced landing at sea between the Orkney Islands and Iceland, Wade and Ogden have been provided with another plane, christened the "Boston II," in which they hope to accompany their comrades to the Pacific coast, thus completing the first aerial journey around the world.

Conditions Unfavorable

PICOTU, N. S., Sept. 3.—After the destroyer charlie for the Hawk Bay-Pictou 375-mile leg of the world flight had been lined up today, the destroyer Barry sent word by radio from here to Lieut. Smith that fog and rain made conditions unfavorable. It was believed this would cause postponement of the flight, as the weather became thicker, with heavy rain, later. The Pictou was all dressed up in American fliers' coming, with streets gaily decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and welcome signs hanging from windows and from business houses. The fliers had sent word down that their stay would be short, because they want to hop for Boston on that day.

Fog Along Coast

CURLING, N. F., Sept. 3.—Weather conditions along the west coast of Newfoundland today were unfavorable for the around-the-world fliers to make the jump to Pictou, N. S., that was planned. Fog was reported at several points between here and Hawkes Bay, where the fliers spent the night.

COMMISSION INSTRUCTS PRECINCT OFFICERS

Instructions for the conduct of the state primaries in this city next Tuesday were given precinct officers by members of the election commission at a meeting in city hall last evening.

Each member of the commission addressed the gathering and the keynote of their talks was "fairness." The precinct officers were urged to be at the polls prior to opening time and to remain until every ballot has been counted.

Commissioner Omar Allard, in his talk, mentioned the fact that in previous years there had been one or two cases of precinct officers drinking while on duty and that there be no case of this sort this year.

The polls, it was announced, will be open next Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. and the officers for which candidates will be named are as follows: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, United States congressman, senators for the 7th and 8th districts, state representatives in the 14th, 15th and 16th districts, two county commissioners, a register of probate, county treasurer, members of the state committee, delegates to the state convention and members of the ward committees.

DESCENDANT OF RICHARD WARREN ELEVATED

Munroe of Providence, R. I., who has been secretary-general. He is a descendant of Richard Warren, one of the fifty passengers on the Mayflower from whom descent has been traced.

The growth of this society in the middle west was recognized with the unanimous election of Rev. William O. Waters of Chicago as elder-general. Harold G. Murray of Plattsburgh, N. Y., was named to succeed Mr. Munroe as secretary-general.

The society took up proposed amendments to the constitution, including that which would provide closer inspection of descent, another for increasing the number of members, and another providing that deputy governor-generals shall be chosen from each state society.

Great secrecy is being observed by the air ministry regarding the experiments, which are regarded as of importance in view of the large measure of success already achieved.

CONCRETE BRIDGE FOR WILDER STREET

Following a conference with the mayor yesterday afternoon, the board of public service voted to have a new concrete bridge built in Wilder street over the Boston and Maine railroad tracks. This action was taken on the ground that repair of the present structure would cost almost as much as a new concrete bridge and would not be satisfactory.

Present at the conference in addition to the mayor were Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the public service board, Frederick F. Meloy and Fred Leary, members of the board; Stephen Kearney, city engineer; and Daniel Martin, city auditor.

In opening the conference Chairman Murphy outlined the present status of the matter. The Wilder street bridge, he said, has been opened up so that the steel work and under-structure could be viewed and as a result of investigation by the engineer's office and the board, the latter had come to the conclusion that the erection of a new concrete bridge would be far more satisfactory than to attempt to repair the present structure.

City Engineer Kearney presented a drawing of the proposed new bridge and estimated the cost at $10,000. Messrs. Meloy and Leary also went on record in favor of a concrete bridge in this location.

Asked relative to the status of the department's finances City Auditor Martin said the bridge appropriation balance at the present time is approximately $62,000.

Of this amount the chairman of the board explained, over $10,000 would be necessary for the Alken street bridge reconstruction and he figured $3000 additional would be necessary over the bridge appropriation to complete the construction of a new bridge in Wilder street.

It was finally decided to go ahead and call for bids for a new concrete bridge in the Wilder street location with the mayor's approval and if more money is necessary a transfer or some other means could be used to provide it.

At the close of the conference, the subject of whether the bridge should be closed to pedestrian traffic was discussed with the members of

The board differing, but final action was postponed to Thursday's meeting of the public service board when a plan and specifications will be presented by Engineer Kearney and called for bids for the bridge authorized.

LOWELL MEN SENTENCED

John Tsaffaras and Peter Courembis Get Jail Sentences in Arson Case

As a result of a fire in a building in Race street on the morning of March 6, John Tsaffaras and Peter J. Courembis, both of this city, yesterday afternoon were sentenced respectively to serve nine months and one year in the house of correction at Cambridge. Tsaffaras was sentenced on a charge of arson and Courembis on a charge of being an accessory to a felony.

In the midst of their trial before Judge Richard T. Irwin in the local county court house the men changed their pleas to guilty and the court pronounced sentences just before adjournment at 4 p. m.

The government's case, composed of testimony by nearly a dozen witnesses had not been completed when a conference of counsel for the defendants held up the trial. Out of this confer-once came the decision to retract pleas of not guilty and lean upon the mercy of the court.

The conference followed discussion of a fine point of law, raised by Albert S. Howard, counsel for Courembis, when he objected to questions by Assistant District Attorney Bushnell relative to insurance policies carried by Courembis on the property he owned in Race street. Mr. Howard contended that inasmuch as there was no charge in the indictment against his client of burning his own property with intent to defraud an insurance company, such questions as the prosecuting officer wished to ask of a witness were not admissible and furthermore, if Courembis were not charged with an intent to defraud he had committed no crime either under the statutes or under common law.

The property in question in Race street was owned by Courembis and it was the government's contention that he and Tsaffaras conspired together to destroy it by fire in order that Courembis might collect $4000 in insurance. The government further alleged that Courembis offered money to Tsaffaras to do the job. At about the time the fire was discovered Tsaffaras was seen running away from the vicinity and later was arrested near the home of Courembis in Varnum avenue.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warms Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia, especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

His hands were badly burned as was a cat said to belong to him which was found near the Race street building.

In passing sentence Judge Irwin said he felt that Courembis should be given the stiffer term, as he believed he was the originator of the idea to burn the building.

ONE REASON FOR MY BEAUTY

By Edna Wallace Hopper

This is to the millions of women who wish to know how I have kept my youth and beauty after 35 years as a stage star. And how at a grand mother's age I manage to look like a girl.

One thing is this: I never use soap and water on my face. Soap removes just the surface dirt, and that has nothing to do with the skin.

Lucia Lantime, the famous Parisian beauty, told me how she kept her skin so absolutely clean.

Then I went to her experts and secured the same method.

Since then the method has come into world-wide use, but only through beauty experts. The results were so marvelous that all of them charged high prices for the product. Some charged $5, some $5, for the formula, so only the few know how much it can do.

Now I am placing this formula at every woman's call. I have named it my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fats, so the skin cannot absorb it. It simply penetrates the pores to the depths, then departs. All the grime, all the dead skin and clogging matter comes out with it. Wash your face in the best way you know, then apply my Facial Youth. You will be amazed at the extra grime and clogging matter which comes out with it.

This is the first step in fine complexion—an absolutely clean skin. The method is the only way to get it. Once you know what it means you will never go without it.

I have placed this formula with all druggists, all toilet retailers. The price is 5c despite the fact that others charge ten times as much.

You need my Facial Youth. It is impossible, they tell me, to look your best without it. It is the only facial cleanser which really cleans.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.—Adv.

LEGION POST HOLDS ROUTINE MEETING

A routine meeting of the Lowell Post of the American Legion was held last evening at the legion headquarters in the Memorial Auditorium. George A. McCarthy, senior vice-commander presiding.

Comrade Robert J. Rutledge read a detailed report on the activities of the Lowell delegation to the state convention of the legion which was held in Pittsfield. The report was accepted. The name of William E. Coleman, deceased veteran was referred to the committee on streets and squares.

Considerable discussion arose on the subject of the annual legion ball which is to be held on Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11. Because of the absence of the members of the ways and means committee the matter was laid on the table until the next meeting.

FRATERNAL NEWS

A meeting of Past Presidents' association of Princess Lodge was held last evening at the home of P. P. Annie Morham in Sycamore street. There was a large attendance at the meeting and the association was host to Grand President Tryon of Manchester, N. H., and Past President Booth of Akron, Ohio. Both guests were called upon for remarks and spoke briefly on the work of the association throughout the country. It was voted at the business meeting to hold a fair and dance on Sept. 13.

Owing to the lack of fragrance in flowers used for table decorations in London hotels and restaurants, the blooms are being fortified by synthetic perfumes.

These Girls too Ill to Attend School

DAUGHTER OF MRS. VLEGHER
NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO

At no age does a young girl need greater care than from the time she reaches the age of twelve years until womanhood is established. Many a woman has suffered years of misery because as a girl she has been allowed to sit around with wet feet, lift heavy articles, overwork and overstudy. In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It is a root and herb medicine, contains nothing harmful and may be taken in perfect safety by any school girl.

This Mother's Letter and Daughter's Photograph of Interest to Every American Mother

NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO.—"My fourteen-year-old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound every month for weakness. One of her classmates in school who had the same trouble told her about it. She said: 'My mother makes me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So that day we came home and told me and we got some the next day. She took three bottles of it and never has to stay home from school now from sickness. She is strong and well. I am sure if any mother writes to me I will be glad to answer her letter."—Mrs. VLEGHER, Box 61, North Baltimore, Ohio.

Another Mother Tells What It Did for Her Daughter

DANDRIDGE, TENN.—"My daughter was not able to go to school for almost a year because of pains in her side and other troubles girls often have. I was just studying one day what I could give her that would help her when I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided I would get it for her. Since taking it she has gained to normal weight and goes to school all the time."—Mrs. GEORGE HANCOCK, Dandridge, Tenn.

LA FOLLETTE AND WHEELER

La Follette and Wheeler have delivered their fulminations against the major political parties; but have given the people nothing new nor constructive. La Follette followed his old line of attack on special interests and private monopoly which he asserted are protected by certain laws and the failure to protect others and whose power has enthralled the two major parties. He told what he will do if elected; toward providing an equal chance in life for everybody, and he will drive out the special interests without mercy.

La Follette has evidently set out to make the masses believe that conditions are worse than they really are that the democratic party as well as the republican is responsible. In that he wilfully misrepresents the situation and assumes the role of a demagogue.

Senator Wheeler takes a different tack in his arraignment of the republican party as responsible for the corruption exposed in the last session of congress and still fresh in the minds of the people. So far as he kept to the facts, he was tolerable, but when he turned and assailed John W. Davis as being identified with the same interests and equally unreliable and untrue to the people, he stated what is not true and thereby gave an illustration of his agility as a political mountebank.

The fact is, that La Follette and Wheeler represent the ultra radical elements of the country and among their most ardent supporters are the socialists who abdicated the field they have occupied for years in order to let these worthies lead a third party.

This independent ticket is a bolt from the republican convention and platform led by La Follette and while its avowed purpose is not socialistic, its main support is of that persuasion. It would, therefore, be a mistake for any democrat to throw away a vote on this third party ticket.

SEEN AND HEARD

It's a terrible thing to get married—
If you have another wife living.

Politics makes strange bedfellows,
And also strange fellows, but many
A dark horse has a bright future.

A little grouse on the top of a pond kills mosquitoes, and yet the dam things seem to thrive on fat people.

A Thought

If Satan ever thought, it must be at hypocrites; they are the greatest dupes he has—Gillon.

Some Encouragement

"Has that young man, who is calling on you, given you any encouragement, Emily?" asked the father. "No, yes. Last night he asked me if you and mother were pleasant to live with."

A Director Who Directs

An aged darkey was renewing acquaintance in a section of the city where he had once been a resident and friend. "Henry," said the darkey, "I want you to direct me to the place where I can get a job. I am a bank director." "You, the director of a bank?" "Deed I is, boss. I jes stan' dare an' when folks comes thru da do' I directs 'em which c' go."—Thrift Magazine.

Her Own Fish

"You poor fish!" This remark was overheard in the New York aquarium.
In these city institutions they always try to instruct the public. "You poor fish," an attendant immediately approached bowed politely to the lady and said: "They do not mind being in the tanks. There they are well fed and also protected from their natural enemies. It is doubtful if they know their liberty is in any way restricted.
So you need not feel sorry for the fish." But the lady was addressing her remarks to her husband.

Filled With Boiling Brim

A cone of the mollusk family, called "Gloria of the Sea," is the rarest and most sought specimen of sea shells; only a dozen are known to exist. They are of exceptional beauty. Their ivory background is touched with delicate rose and orange, over which is a marvelous intricate fretwork of small triangles ranging from yellow to chestnut brown. They are equipped with a proboscis that has 60 sharp teeth arranged in pairs and buried like fishhooks. With these they can bite and draw into the shells of other mol-lusks in order to feed on the defenseless animals within.—Mentor Magazine.

Dad's Several Names

If he is wealthy and prominent and you stand in awe of him, call him Father. If he sits in his shirt sleeves and suppers at his bedside and retires, call him "Pop." If he fills the land or teaches Sunday school, call him
"Pa." If he wheels the baby carriage and carries bundles meekly, call him
"Papa." With the accent on the first syllable, if he belongs to a library and reads the cultured papers, or is a reformer in politics and fore-goes to vote, call him "Papa," with the accent on the last syllable. If, however, he makes a pal of you when you're good, and is too wise to let you pull the wool over his loving eyes when you're not; if, moreover, you're sure of other fellow you know him quite as fine a father, you may call him "Dad!"
—but not otherwise.—Capper's Weekly.

The Arrow and the Song

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who could follow that quick flight,
That I can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song's beginning, still begun,
Which was in the heart of a friend.
—LONGFELLOW.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Miss Margaret McCloskey, of Methuen street, who is touring Europe with her brother, Dr. Richard J. Mc-Closkey and the doctor's wife, has written another interesting letter to a member of the Sun staff in which she states that the party has reached Ireland and found the birthplaces of both father and mother. "Now that we have discovered these places," she writes, "it seems that we have turned our faces toward home again. We go from Belfast to Dublin, to Limerick, Killarney, Cork, Queenstown and good old New York. I think my last letter was from Paris. We went from there to London and spent nearly two weeks in England. We drove through the beautiful Shropshire country in a downpour of rain, visited Saltaire manor, the home of the Washingtons, Oxford and Eton colleges, and many other places of interest, not forgetting Westminster Abbey, York cathedral and the beautiful Roman Catholic theater, where the doctor served Father "Tim" Mass. You know Mr.
Henry Tait was on our tour with St. Michael's church in Lowell. We had the pleasure of his company for a few days."

Edinburgh I liked better than London. "The Goddess town" it has been called. The Athens of Great Britain is a city of spires, monuments and gardens. From the windows of our hotel we could see the dark crags of the castle with its thousand years of history, its chimes of purple shadows. Here we were shown an ancient cannon, the banquet hall with its armor-plated walls and priceless memories. We saw the broken-up wall where a baby skeleton had been found;
the room wherein Mary of Guise died;
the crown of Bruce kept in a glass case with the "honors of Scotland." St.
Margaret's chapel is the smallest kept in Scotland and here was firmly kept a relic of the true cross until it went in state down the hill to make Hollywood holy. From the castle grounds we had an excellent view of the surrounding country, hills, valleys and mountains, towns and nesting villages, the vast colorful checkerboard of many Stuart's journeys, flights, and lightings. We drove around Salisbury, Craig and Arthur's seat and on to Holyrood. "From Edinburgh I've been on to Glasgow."
"From Edinburgh I've been on to Glasgow." We had a delightful steamer ride, and the drive through the valley was wonderful, but of that I will write later."

Miss McCloskey writes a charmingly interesting letter indeed and her Lowell friends are anticipating many delightful evenings when she returns. It is understood that her party is on the high seas now homeward bound.

Lowell manufacturers are taking up the subject of "industrial preparedness" as a suitable project in which the men who make products used daily by human beings may work intelligently and profitably to all-engaged in planning for the success of "National Defense Day" locally. This day actually presents but one of the so-called "studies of national preparedness." It will provide the test —the first real test in many times in our history—of the nation's power and of its effective organization. Another side is that of industrial preparedness, and although the President's defense test in which President Coolidge has asked the co-operation of all patriotic citizens, will not test directly the preparedness of industries, it may be said that industrial preparedness has kept pace with the plans for the quick mobilization in an emergency of man power. New districts in the industrial world in New England to districts manufacturing textiles, brass, machine tools and boot and shoe industries. More than 11,000 industries have already submitted surveys by the war department. The survey has taken three years to bring a complete list.
When this is done, the government will have a fairly clear conception of the industrial resources of the country at large.

One of the big hands on the silent clock on the small tower on the roof of the old Boston and Maine railroad station, has moved along five minutes from its former stationary position—twenty minutes past three. It may have been a piece of machinery, or even a bolt from the blast of a torpedo-labeled wind that struck Lowell the other day. Anyhow, the hand of the historic timepiece that used to be scanned by thousands of men, women and children in Lowell daily for many years appears to be gradually creeping around to the half-hour mark.

The 10th annual convention of the Society of the American Association of the United States which was held here Sunday and Monday proved one of the most successful of its kind ever witnessed locally. Delegates from New York, Washington, D. C., Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts attended, totaling over 250.
The religious services which opened the convention on Sunday morning were such as to arouse the spiritual sentiment of those attending, while the business and entertainment sessions proved equally incentive, matterially speaking. Pierre LeBlanc, a local man, was re-elected president-general of the organization. Almo Glover is president of the local branch of the society.

One of the local majority candidates while watching a ball game on Sunday afternoon the other day, stopped between innings to all and light his pipe. When about to strike a match in some way he happened to drop his match box and the contents were scattered all over the ground.
He stooped down, picked up one match, lighted it and puffed away at his old pipe. With this over he proceeded to pick up the fallen "timber." It was a slow, monotonous job, but he stuck to it until every one was satisfied. A party who watched the interesting salvaging expedition remarked that if the candidate should be successful on election day and going to city hall practiced such economy and thrift with the city's finances, etc., he ought to prove a good executive.
Possibly it would be said that one who didn't use either tobacco or matches would be still more economic.

EAGLES VOTE TO PARADE ON DEFENSE DAY

A regular meeting of Lowell Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was held last evening at Eagles hall, 94 Germain street, with worthy President Thomas E. Quinn in the chair.

A considerable amount of routine business was transacted and reports from officers and committees received.

A communication was received from the citizens' committee in connection with Defense Day celebration and the aerie voted to take part in the parade on that day.

The end of a thrill

It's nice to look forward to vacating time and it's bully to plan on a rest. You need recreation when hot is the climate 'cause a loaf gives you back used up zest.

The day that you start on your week or two trip is like shootin' the chutes, one might say. Your mind is at ease and it's dippin' the dip, like a youngster of five at its play.

You start at the top of the vacation ride and you skim through the air, downward bound. The world at its best is just casually eyed as the trip takes you 'round and around.

Of course you hang on as you're spinning through space for you know that the ride will be short. You're takin' no chances on losin' your place in the wonderful vacation sport.

And then, one more curve and you feel your ride jerk and the ending just gives you a spill. You fall down through space and you land back at work. It's the end of a wonderful thrill.

A JOKE VERSIFIED

"Come, come," said Tom's father, "at your time of life,
There's no longer excuse for thus playing the rake—
It is time you should think, boy, of taking a wife."

"Why, so it is, father—whose wife shall I take?"
—Thomas Moore.

HELD JACKSON RALLY IN LIBERTY HALL

A rally in the interests of James Jackson, former state treasurer and now a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, was held last night in Liberty hall. In addition to the candidate there were present as speakers Gen. Clarence H. Edwards, old Yankee Division commander; John L.
Hurley of Boston and Mrs. Henry Præston White, a prominent worker among women voters throughout the state.

Liberty hall was comfortably filled with local republicans, augmented by a score or more from neighboring towns. The meeting was presided over by Col. Charles A. Stevens of this city, one of the original Jackson men and an active worker in the present campaign. Music by Regan's Military band enlivened the proceedings before, during and after the rally.

Gen. Edwards, Mr. Hurley and Mrs.
White did not fail to stress the point in their addresses that James Jackson by training, experience and natural ability is the best equipped man before the voters for the office of governor. Gen. Edwards particularly commented upon his work as the state head of the Red Cross organization during the war and told a number of colorful human interest stories to bring home this point.

The candidate himself took occasion to state his belief in textile schools as a means of preparing young men for manufacturing pursuits. He said he once had been misinterpreted in a statement relative to such institutions and wished to correct any false impression which still might obtain.

Mrs. White was the first speaker presented by Chairman Stevens. She called the attention of women to the need of going to the primary election on next Tuesday declaring that the issue was urgent. Many good candidates never reach nomination, she said, because of a lack of interest in the primaries and added that she has found too many evidences of this lack among women voters.

John L. Hurley of Boston, a professor at Suffolk law school, was a foremost speaker and dwelt at some length upon public service records made by Mr. Jackson's opponent, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller. He declared that the latter had shown no interest in important articles of legislation when a member of the state house of representatives and later as a United States congressman. He called particular attention to the number of absent marks against Mr. Fuller's name when important bills came up for action.

During Mr. Jackson's address he spoke at some length upon institutional work being carried on under state auspices and said there is need of a great deal of work among children afflicted with mental or physical diseases.
The adult institutional situation is well covered for now, he said, and to reach the children during the early stage of mental or physical affliction will aid greatly in reducing the number of adult patients in years to come. The candidate expressed interest in the development of the city of Boston as an air port.

This address by Gen. Edwards was typically informal. He made a stirring plea for Jackson support and Jackson votes.

NOW FOR A BUSY EUROPE

Now that the Dawes plan of settling the reparations issue has been adopted by the European powers interested, the next step is to provide a loan of $205,000,000 promised to Germany. This amount, it is expected, will enable Germany to start up some of her industries that have been in a rather lath-ing condition ever since the war.
It is surprising, however, to find that very considerable volume of the imports to this country and South America are of German manufacture.

France, too, will require a loan, provided the payments to be made by Germany fail to enable her to meet her financial obligations and at the same time to get her industries back to normal activity. France has done wonderful work in the line of reconstruction; and it is to be hoped that the new arrangement will enable her to repair the ravages of the war, to restore her farming industry to its former high status and also to bring her manufacturing industries back to a state of prosperity. Belgium is also to negotiate a loan of $20,000,000, a sum, which to her, will assist very materially in enabling her industries to get started on the road to pros-

RAGS FOR PAPER

The high-grade writing paper industry is alarmed because rags, from which fine paper is made, are no longer saved by housewives.

This nation of ours once had vast respect for the penny. Children were taught this respect in school. Sermons were preached about it. Editors encouraged it. The mighty penny, alas! has fallen into evil days. With its buying power cut in two, the penny has become a target of indifference.
Economy will return as the shoe increasingly pinches. The ragman will again ply his trade.

Nearly four times as much paper is used by Americans as in 1889. Yet the materials for paper-making are becoming scarcer, especially pulpwod from the forests. The situation has caused a demand for reforestation and care of the forests as the source of supply of wood pulp. The great forests are being cut down and reforestation moves at a slow pace.

HERRIN OUTBREAK

There is another outbreak at Har-zin, Ill., resulting in six deaths and a number of persons wounded. This clash between Klan and anti-Klan forces followed closely upon the acquittal of the Sheldon brothers, who had been accused of shooting a Klan sheriff.
The state troops were called to restore peace; but so long as the hooded order comes to the front to terrorize or intimidate, there is little likelihood of lasting peace.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—New rules and regulations governing the operation and use of motor trucks are expected to be formulated in the near future, as a result of the passage by the legislature of a law which became operative yesterday, the ninety days required by the constitution having expired Monday at midnight.

Under the new law, the state department of public works, through its division of highways, is permitted to make rules and regulations which have all the force of law. William F. Williams, commissioner of public works, stated yesterday that he will prepare in the near future a tentative draft of the new rules, on which a public hearing will be given just as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. After such hearing, the division may revise the tentative draft, or put it into effect without change, as it sees fit.

The new law amends chapter ninety of the general laws, which is the motor vehicle statute, by adding the following new section:

Section 31A.—The division after a public hearing may make and may alter, rescind or add to, rules and regulations for the reasonable and proper control and regulation of the transportation by motor vehicle of personal property over the ways of this commonwealth, except ways under the control of the metropolitan district commission. Said rules and regulations shall cover, among other matters which the division may deem necessary or desirable, the fixing of routes with respect to the physical capacity of such ways to carry traffic; the establishment of the maximum weight of loads per commercial motor vehicle and per ton of the maximum weight of loads per such vehicle; and the regulation of the rate of speed of such vehicles over such ways. Said rules and regulations and any changes therein shall be subject to approval, and shall take effect, in the manner provided by section six of chapter sixteen. Any person convicted of a violation of any rule or regulation made under this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars, and in case of a second or subsequent offense the registration of the vehicle or vehicles involved shall be suspended for such length of time as the division may determine.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

One of the most compelling and primitive love stories ever told on the screen, is embodied in "The Covered Wagon"—Emerson Hough's novel which was pictured by James Cruze for Paramount with a feature cast. The picture is the feature at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week.

The romance between Molly Wigwag, the belle of old Liberty town, and young Will Barton, late of Doniphan's army in the war with Mexico, with a clouded record which brings about near disaster for the loves of both, is not only beautiful but inspiring. There is all the strength of passion, the rugged charm and the wilderness sweetness that characterized the country in the days of '48. A bitter rival in the character of Sam Woodhull causes untold trouble, but in the end all comes right. The production is one of exceptional massiveness. Thousands of persons appear in the varied scenes, fully one thousand being full-blooded Indians, all descendants of the savages who harassed the wagon trains as they crossed the plains during the gold rush period of 1848. There are many dramatic scenes, the chief of these being Indian attacks on the wagon trains, a real buffalo hunt and a thrilling prairie fire. Popular prices prevail for this engagement of "The Covered Wagon." An "Our Gang" comedy and the latest International News complete the bill.

B. F. KEITH THEATRE

The Meisteringers, New England's most noted musical organization, is giving twice daily during the present week one of its unique programs of vocal music. The members of the organization, 12 in number, belong to three of the best known quartets in this part of the country, and their engagement by the Keith management is only for a limited period of time. The remainder of the bill holds many bright points, including the act of Johnny Sully and Muriel Thomas. It is a singing-dancing-comedy affair which holds unusual spots. Smith and Quane are a pair of Harmonizers and Wilcox and LaCroix present "The White Collar Man," a diverting comedy. Jack Handley is one of the best of comedy jugglers and Jackie and Billie are two beautiful cockatoos. One of them talks. "The Code of the Wilderness" is the picture attraction.

RIALTO THEATRE

man to come home at night and soak his feet in a tub of hot water while his son plays him a tune on the fiddle. But it's rather hard on mother's clean floors if the music becomes so excellent that the mail man forgets his lameness and starts to do a jig in the tub.

"The Mail Man," coming to the Rialto theatre tomorrow is full of amusing touches, so human in their comedy that they mirror one's own home life. It is in these splendid moments of relief from the upward trend of drama in the story that Emory Johnson, the director, excels. Johnson knows the value of breaking into the thread of the plot when details begin to get heavy, to give the audience just a few minutes to digest what has gone before. This deft handling enables his spectators to follow easily each succeeding step in the story's denouement, and makes his productions highly pleasing.

Resides Ralph Lewis, who plays the title role, "The Mail Man" cast includes Johnnie Walker, Taylor Graves, Josephine Adair, Martha Sleeper, Rosemary Cooper, Virginia True Boardman, Dave Kirby and Hardee Kirkland. Most of these favorites appeared in support of Lewis in one of the former Johnson pictures. "The "Third Alarm" "In the Name of the Law," or "Westbound Limited." Emille Johnson, mother of the well-known director, is the author of all of her son's pictures. They are all released by the Film Booking Offices of America.

The added feature is "The Grail," a western drama starring Dustin Farnum. Other attractions on the bill include the latest thrilling chapter of "The Way of a Man," a clever comedy and a News.

PRES. COOLIDGE WORKS ON BALTIMORE SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—With enthusiastic reports before him from his campaign manager, William M. Butler, and other political advisers, President Coolidge turned his attention today to work on his next speech, to be delivered in Baltimore Saturday morning at the unveiling of the Lafayette statue. Some consider it likely he will take this occasion to discuss at more length his foreign policies.

The president, meanwhile, has told advisers he considers it inappropriate to discuss political questions in his speech before the Holy Name society convention later this month. The address, he has pointed out, will be before a religious assembly and will be delivered, under present plans, on Sunday.

At the same time, the republican nominee has indicated he may make out of town speeches from time to time during the campaign as occasions arise, though regarding the duties of his office here as requiring his first attention.

WILL BROADCAST NIGHT FOOTBALL GAME

What is believed to be a new feature of broadcasting will be introduced by WSAI, of the United States Playing Card company, Cincinnati, when "K. S. M." WSAI's sporting announcer, calls the plays direct from the playing field at the first night football game of the season. The game, in which the University of Cincinnati "Bears" meet the strong Kentucky Wesleyan team, will be called at 3 p. m. on Saturday, September 27. It is said that this will be the first night football game broadcast.

The playing field at James Gamble Nippert stadium of the University of Cincinnati will be lighted by a battery of huge searchlights which will enable players and spectators to follow every move of the game. A white football will be used in order that players may follow punts and passes more accurately.

In addition to broadcasting the game on this date, WSAI will also broadcast the game between Cincinnati and Georgetown college on the following Saturday, as well as all the home football games of the University of Cincinnati squad. The game with Georgetown will also be played at night.

Today will be the last chance for the dance lovers to hear this wonderful band before they start on their western tour.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 14

As soon as Flip reached the shore he flopped right over on his side. It was very apparent that the dog had had a hard battle for he was all tattered out. Jack rushed to his side and started rubbing his limbs. Then he discovered one of Flip's legs was slightly cut and bleeding.

"Gee," said Jack, "I wish I had some sort of a bandage with me. I'd like to wrap this sore leg up." The captain laughed and replied, "Well, sonny, you'd better learn how to make your own bandage. I'll show you how." Then the old man took hold of one of his shirt sleeves and ripped it off.

"That's the way to get a bandage," said the captain. And he wrapped the shirt sleeve around the dog's leg. Flip seemed to understand that he was being helped for he lay perfectly still until the captain had finished. Then the dog hopped up and licked the captain's hand. (Continued.)

"FOR THE LAND SAKES! IS THIS WHERE YOU ARE?"

"Hello," said Silver Wings to Nancy and Nick.

"Hello!" cried the Twins, running and kneeling down beside the big stone on which the fairy had perched herself. "We're ever so glad to see you."

"I'm glad, too," said Silver Wings. "Guess what I've got."

"The magic shoes!" shouted the Twins, guessing that they were to have more adventures.

"That's what," said Silver Wings, holding them up.

And then she told them how much the little wood people needed clothes to go to school in. And how the Fairy Queen wanted them to help. And after that she gave them a lot of directions.

"Hooryay!" cried Nick. "Won't that be jolly!"

"But I can't sew so very well!" said Nancy doubtfully.

"Oh, that doesn't matter a bit," said Silver Wings. "Mister Snip Snap will help you. Besides he has magic needles and magic thread and I'm perfectly sure you won't have a lot of trouble."

"All right," said Nancy obligingly. "I'd love to do it. Besides we're such good friends with the Crickets family and the Cotton-tails and everybody. I'd like to see them all again. And unless we have the magic shoes on, they scarcely ever let us get a peep at them."

WHEELER TALKS ON KU KLUX KLAN

ence La Follette First to Oppose Organization

Davis Hesitated Before Doing
So and Dawes' Words Left
Doubt Where He Stood

Country Still Waiting for Pres. Coolidge to Abandon
Silence on the Subject

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 3.—Senator Wheeler, vice-presidential candidate on the third ticket, left Portland early today, pushing forward his speaking tour in New England with stops scheduled at Lowell, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. Rain disturbed and delayed his Tuesday efforts, but did not halt them entirely, and in his night address at Portland before such an audience as defied weather and delay, he again criticized the democratic and republican parties, and introduced the topic of the Ku Klux Klan.

Senator La Follette, his presidential candidate, was the first national candidate, Senator Wheeler said, to declare plainly that the Ku Klux Klan was an organization adverse to American principles. John W. Davis, the democratic nominee, had hesitated long before doing so, he continued. General Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, has used in Maine such words on the subject that there was doubt as to where he stood, and the "country was still waiting for President Coolidge to abandon silence on the subject," Senator Wheeler said. He himself, added the senator, stood for no organization which proposed to enforce its will illegally.

ACTIVE REVOLT AGAINST SOVIET

Revolt Against Moscow

Conquered by Insurgents
—Bloody Conflicts

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press).—All of Georgia and Azerbaijan is declared to have been in active revolt against the Moscow soviet regime for the last five days and half the territory of Georgia already has been conquered by the insurgents, according to representatives of Georgia here, who announced the receipt of this news today. The sanguinary struggle is continuing and fighting is occurring in the streets of Batumi, their advance state.

Bloody Conflicts
LONDON, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press).—The Georgian representatives in London have received a despatch from Constantinople saying that Georgia and Azerbaijan were revolting against the soviet occupation forces and that bloody conflicts have occurred, many being killed or wounded and railway and telegraphic communication being interrupted. British official circles were unable today to confirm these reports.

A despatch from Tiflis, capital of the Georgian republic, received by way of Moscow September 1, declared an attempt to overthrow the soviet regime in Georgia, made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic, had been put down. An official communiqué issued by the Georgian council of commissars claimed the movement had been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

MacDONALD AND HERRIOT ATTEND

Bring Weight of Britain and France to Support of League of Nations

Great Audience Fills Hall to
of League Assembly.

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press).—Prime Minister MacDonald of England and Premier Herriot of France, brought the weights of the governments of the British empire and the French republic to the support of the League of Nations when today they attended the session of the league's assembly.

A great audience which filled every inch of space in the hall gathered to greet the premiers and accord them an enthusiastic welcome, but did not have the satisfaction of hearing either speak, for the two statesmen sat quietly with their delegations and listened to the debate on the work of the league's council during the past year.

A feature of today's discussion was the laudatory address of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, concerning America's traditional adherence to the idea of arbitration. He emphasized the importance of the declaration for adherence to the world court of justice made by Secretary Hughes and indicated to the delegates and other auditors his impression that the entire force of the United States would inevitably be cast in support of any reasonable arbitration development as a means of preserving peace.

Healy announced by the reparation commission at a meeting this afternoon. He is due to arrive in Paris about the middle of the month.

Mr. Young will return on the 14th from Berlin, where he is going today. He intends to meet the commission for railway debentures here at that time to arrange with them the particulars of the payments to be made to the agent-general, and Mr. Gilbert is expected here in time to take part in this conference.

Rufus Dawes, who goes with Mr. Young to Berlin, is to be placed by him in charge of the Berlin office of the organization carrying out the Dawes plan.

Mr. Young remarked before leaving on his trip that Germany's payment of 20,000,000 gold marks yesterday spoke more effectively than any words of his. The reparation commission met this afternoon and confirmed the appointment of Mr. Gilbert in succession to Agent-General Young.

Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., is but 31 years of age and unmarried. By profession a lawyer, he became interested in governmental financial matters in 1918 when he was made a member of the war loan staff in the office of the secretary of the treasury, acting as counsel in matters pertaining to the raising of funds for the prosecution of America's part in the great war.

In June, 1920, he was nominated by President Wilson for the post of assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs. He was reappointed in March, 1921 and served until June of that year, following which he became under-secretary of the treasury, continuing in that position until November of last year.

Mr. Gilbert holds several degrees from Rutgers college and is an LL.B. cum laude of Harvard university. He makes his home in Bloomfield, N. J., the place of his birth.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Granted Permit to Operate
Busses Here

Councilor Cosgrove's Motion
to Reconsider Defeated—
Fireman Collins Pensioned

The street railway company was finally granted a permit to operate busses within the city limits by the city council last evening. At the last previous meeting of the council a vote granting the permit was recorded with Councilor Cosgrove voting in the negative. Following the vote he filed notice to reconsider at the next meeting.

Before routine business had been completed, the council was reconvened by the chair and said he wished to substitute for his motion to reconsider the vote on motion referring the granting of the permit to a referendum at the regular election. The chair ruled action of the motion to reconsider must come first and on vote. The motion was lost.

The meeting was called to order at 8:15 p. m. with Councilors Gallagher, Hennessy, Dickson, Cosgrove, Chadwick, Daly, Morrissey and General president, Councilors McFadden, McFadden, Stearns and Fitzgerald arrived within half an hour after the meeting was called to order.

Hearings on a number of petitions for telephone and electric light pole locations were held. There was an exceptionally large number of hearings, namely in connection with the new street lighting system, and 45 minutes were taken up with this business.

Other routine petitions were referred to the various city departments for investigation and approval.

Councilor Cosgrove, speaking on his motion at the last previous meeting to reconsider the council vote granting a permit to the Eastern Massachusetts company to operate busses in this city, offered to substitute a motion referring the matter to a referendum at the next regular election.

Chairman Gallagher ruled action on the reconsideration motion must come first.

On vote, the motion to reconsider was lost, only Councilors Cosgrove and McFadden voting in the affirmative.

A petition from Pawtucketville residents for the construction of a bridge over Beaver Brook at Conduit street was referred for public hearing Sept. 16.

An order was adopted authorizing the public service board to determine the amount of assessments for street lighting for 1924.

Moses I. Collins, for over 25 years a member of the fire department and over 20 years of age, was voted a pension of $67.25 per annum.

On motion of Councilor McFadden, the meeting adjourned at 9:35 o'clock.

NEW YORK CITY HIKERS

HAVE GOOD LUCK

Last evening two "hitch-hiking" fans arrived in Lowell from Caratunk, Me. They were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morchard of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Morchard left New York three weeks ago and started on the road to Chicago. They had only walked a few miles when an obliging motorist gave them a lift to Cleveland, Ohio. From Cleveland a few more rides brought them to the "Windy City." The entire trip from New York to Chicago was made in just four days. From Chicago they came east and Saturday evening arrived at the town of Caratunk, Me., and Mrs. Morchard left Caratunk yesterday morning and hiked to Biddeford. In Biddeford they were given a lift by a soldier who was on his way back to Camp Devens and who landed in Lowell at 9 o'clock last evening.

This morning the hikers started for Boston and confidently expected to arrive there in time for lunch. They intend to stay a day or two in Boston in order to visit points of interest and then return to New York, arriving there about the first of next week.

WINANT WINS IN N. H. PRIMARY

Nominated for Governor by Republicans Over Maj.

Knox by Plurality of 2084
County

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 3.—Captain John G. Winant, Concord financier was conceded the republican nomination for governor at an early hour today by his chief opponent, Major Frank Knox, publisher of the Manchester Union and Leader, when the returns from 247 of the 254 electoral districts gave Winant a plurality of 2084. The totals were: Winant 18,842; Knox 16,758.

In the republican nominations for congressional representatives, Fletcher Hale of Laconia led in the first district and Congressman Edward H. Wilson of Nashua in the second. Senator Henry W. Keyes of Haverhill was renominated without opposition. The democrats had no contest for nomination for governor or for congressional delegates.

Major Knox, in a message of congratulations, declared that "the important thing now is to elect the entire republican ticket" and "to stand behind Calvin Coolidge and the state standard bearers of the party."

The only district in which the Ku Klux Klan was considered a factor in the election, returned the klan candidate in the nomination of William H. Davis, mayor of Rochester, for sheriff of Strafford county, defeating, according to the latest returns, present incumbent, Frank E. Goodwin. Davis received the endorsement of the klan in his majority campaign last spring.

Miss Elizabeth Sanborn of Laconia furnished one of the surprises of the contests in defeating Edward L. Lydiard, also of Laconia, in the contest for registrar of deeds in Belknap county.

URGE GENERAL DISPLAY OF NEW ENGLAND MADE PRODUCTS

Windows in Vacant Stores Recommended as Suitable
for Street Advertising Purposes—Direct Appeal to Lowell Manufacturers to Display Home Made Goods

Lowell manufacturers who have responded with commendable unity of action, in the call to observe "All New England Week" from Sept. 16 to 20, today received from John S. Lawrence, chairman of the committee supervising the New England campaign, the following personal letter:

"The committee in charge of ascertaining locations for the display of New England-made products, finds a number of windows in vacant stores on the main streets of numerous New England cities and towns, available for such exhibits during the week of Sept. 16 to 20—some at nominal prices, others without charge.

"If you have in your city or town manufacturers who wish to secure use of one of these stores during New England week, will you either advise the New England week committee immediately or ask the manufacturers to send their applications in immediately. Reservations should be made in order of receipt.

"The All New England Week" committee suggests that your committee offer and award three ribbons of different colors, as first, second and third prizes for the best window displays in Lowell, of New England-made goods during New England Week."

Chairman Lawrence forwards an interesting summary of some of the work that has been performed during the past two weeks in spreading "New England propaganda" to all quarters of the six states. Extensive advertising campaigns are being conducted by the distribution of booklet cards, leaflets and buttons. A brief summary of the scope of some of the progressive campaigns now being waged in cities like Lowell, is presented as follows:

Over 5000 advertising placards featuring "New England Week" are now on display in the street cars. New posters are designed nearly every week.

More than 1,000,000 advertising

stickers have been ordered and have just begun to be used.

About 300,000 blotters carrying the message of "New England Week" have already been printed, and are in process of distribution by public utilities corporations, banks, department stores, etc.

Quantities of tags of assorted sizes and bearing the necessary labels, have been sent to all chambers of commerce, local committees and many individuals. The "New England Week" colors of pine tree green and oak leaf red are being generally used for decorations. A special "N.E.W." worker button is now ready with pledge cards. It is expected that these will be worn by more than 100,000 people within a short space of time.

No publicist would be complete without radio. Stories relating to "New England Week" are being broadcasted day and night.

Every active New England manufacturer has taken advantage of this opportunity to stimulate distribution of products. Some are displaying special window displays in retail stores.

The Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor has unanimously passed an emphatic resolution of this movement.

During the observance of "New England Week," many hotels will feature New England foods, specializing in fruits, vegetables and fish. Special "New England menus" will be the rule each day.

The Lawrence letter of survey and outlining some of the prospective work ahead, closes with the following cheerful prediction:

"This, we believe, is the beginning of a new New England era. A lot of hard work lies ahead, but it can be done and those who work for a prosperous New England are also working for a prosperous United States, as the two go together."

INJUNCTION HALTS WORK OF WIDENING BAD CORNER

Judge Irwin Issues Temporary Restraining Order Relative to Alterations Being Made to Property at Hall and Aiken Streets Owned by Lawrence Woman

A temporary injunction restraining the City of Lowell and Contractor J. A. Simpson from making any further entry upon property at Hall and Aiken streets owned by Annie Marshall of Lawrence, in connection with the widening of that dangerous corner, was granted today by Judge Richard T. Irwin in East Cambridge after a lobby conference with the city solicitor and Attorney Gardner W. Pearson, representing the building owner. The temporary injunction will run until the first Monday in October, when a formal hearing will be given on the plaintiff's petition for a permanent restraining order.

The injunction petition is being brought because of objections on the part of the owner of the property to the manner in which alterations are being made. The property is one of the largest tenement blocks in the city and according to Contractor Simpson the plans call for the taking of 34 feet from one side of the block and 17 feet from another, thus making a triangular incision. To this method of alteration the property owner objects and seeks to have the work permanently stopped.

In the process of eliminating the danger point in question, alterations also have been made upon the opposite corner where land was given to the city by the Lawrence Manufacturing company. This part of the work has been completed, it is said.

Although the city has offered Mrs. Marshall $3000 for her property, it has not been accepted, although it is said that the present action is not a result of financial considerations.

NATATT, R. I., Sept. 3.—Miss Glenna Collett of Providence today defeated Mrs. J. Renwick of Mount Kisco, N. Y., in the second round of the women's national golf tournament by 8 and 6. Mrs. Renwick won only two holes when Miss Collett put shots through the green into brooks.

Miss Burns thus got even for her recent defeat by Miss Cummings in the final round of the western women's tournament. At the third extra hole of the match, Miss Burns, 20 yards in front of Miss Cummings on her drive, made the green in two shots, while Miss Cummings was in a trap with her second. Miss Cummings was short of the green with her third, but laid her fourth six feet from the cup. Miss Burns' approach putt left her only six inches inside Miss Cummings and the latter sank her putt for a five and a possible half. But Miss Burns took one more putt and the match.

7-YEAR-OLD CENTRALVILLE LADS NEAR DEATH WHEN RAFT OVERTURNS IN MERRIMACK

Two 7-year-old boys are at death's door at St. John's hospital as result of being thrown into the Merrimack river between the Aiken Street and Central bridges, opposite the Lakeview avenue baseball grounds at about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when a raft on which they were playing overturned and swept them downstream. They are James O'Toole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. O'Toole, of 35 Fulton street and David McElroy, son of David McElroy, of 2 Pollard avenue. Neither boy was able to swim.

At St. John's hospital doctors and nurses still are working over the boys and while life seems extinct in each case the physician in charge would not pronounce them dead at the time of going to press. Fifteen minutes after they had been thrown into the water when the raft capsized, the bodies were recovered by a Polish young man whose name could not be learned. A Lowell Sun truck driver, William Lester, took one of the boys to St. John's hospital, while the other was taken in a machine by a man named McCarthy.

An emergency call was sent to police headquarters and Lieut. Martin Conners and Patrolman John Leaky responded with the life boat and tackle. The boys had been taken from the water and to the hospital, however, before they reached the spot.

FLOWER OF ROMANCE FADES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

The Hectic Hector Sought His Fair Lady With Loaded Revolver in Her Chamber and Was More Than Mildly Persuasive—Nine Months in Jail

The possibility of a continued romance between Hector Jette, 22, of Cabot street, and Miss Ida M. Desrosiers, 20, of Emory avenue, faded into oblivion in district court this morning when Jette was sentenced to 90 days in the house of correction for trying a pistol without a license, and three additional months for threatening the life of his former girl friend and alleged sweetheart.

Jette may attribute his present predicament to the fact that he went to Miss Desrosiers' home early last evening, gained admittance by taking a door key from its hiding place, secreted himself in the girl's bedroom and pointed a full-loaded revolver at her when she entered the room.

Arrested by the youth's suspicious actions, the girl informed her father

Second Hearing of Leaders in Local Preparedness Campaign Disposes of Much Important Business in Paving Way to Formation of City's Official Program

"Preparedness means national security." That was the four-word keynote of the second patriotic rally of leading citizens called together again last evening for the purpose of eliciting all inhabitants of Lowell in an expression of loyalty on "National Defense Day," Friday, Sept. 12.

Inclement weather conditions failed to affect the attendance, or dampen the ardors of representatives of many Lowell civic, military, fraternal, social, industrial and religious organizations ever active in the municipality. Large progress was made in the preparation of the city's official program, which is expected to enlist many thousands of men, women and children in the proposed "Defense Day" demonstrations in the public streets, in halls, in public squares, in institutions, in the homes and in the homes of Lowell's main citizenry.

The leaders in the city's formal patriotic observances on Sept. 12 (the day that General John J. Pershing testifies from the active list of the United States army) expressed entire confidence in the success of Lowell's impressive program as announced in skeleton form at last night's patriotic rally in the old Courthouse-Citizen building.

Among the well-known citizen volunteers now active in promoting Lowell's effort to show and prove the measure and strength of Lowell preparedness for national defense in time of war, and who took important parts last night in formulating program plans and naming additional working committees, were the following:

Maj. Dana Palmer, general chairman of Lowell's "National Defense Day" committee; Maj. Percy E. Wilson, organized reserves; Secretary James A. Walsh; Commander Colin C. Macdonald of Lowell post 87, American Legion; John P. Ryan and Maj. Fred Estes; Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of Lowell chamber of commerce; Sgt. Frank Klum of local militia recruiting station; Benjamin Harrington, instructor Clarence E. Towne of Lowell Y.M.C.A.; Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of Lowell public schools; and Mrs. James C. Usher.

Numerous other citizens were present to give their personal support to the general committee's "Defense Day" programs in the making. A great deal of work on the preliminaries has already been accomplished, but there is much to do. The general committee program could be devised by which all the people of the city could take part in the national mobilization of all the government's strength as a preparedness action preliminary to the actual business meeting of the "Defense Day" committee, was called to order shortly after 8 p. m. Maj. Palmer presiding and Secretary Walsh reading a detailed report of the first meeting of local citizen enthusiasts, held last week informally. Last night's meeting was called "informal," as well as the general committee being anxious, before taking final action on any important projects, to secure the best opinions of leading Lowell citizens on each and every question involved in the impressive celebration departure now in the perspective.

Secretary Walsh described "the birth" of the local movement at a special meeting recently called by Lowell post 87, American Legion, to consider the matter of calling public attention to "National Defense Day" and to see if a community program could be devised by which all the people of the city could take part in the national mobilization of all the government's strength as a preparedness action preliminary to the actual business meeting of the "Defense Day" committee, was called to order shortly after 8 p. m. The Legion secretary reviewed the successful efforts made by Local 87 to secure financial support from the city of Lowell, the mayor promising the sum of $500 in municipal aid to meet necessary expenses of the creditable project involved. The growth of the movement to its present fifth was admirably described by Secretary Walsh, who announced that the general organization is now known officially as: "Lowell Citizens' Committee for National Defense." This title will be retained until the last of the public observances in Lowell on Sept. 12 are concluded.

The secretary announced that more than 100 communications have been issued to local organizations of all categories, patriotic and fraternal, inviting co-operating assistance in the general committee's plans.

Plans Are Explained

Maj. Wilson, who has been appointed official representative of the organized reserves in the "Defense Day" preliminaries, was invited to explain some of the plans that have already been formulated. He responded with a clear-cut delineation of some of the advance programs with which not all of the general committee members are familiar.

The major explained that "National Defense Day" had a two-fold purpose. First, it is planned to check-up, so to speak, on the condition of the nation's line of defenses in time of war. Second, the coming demonstration on Sept. 12 next, is simply a "paper mobilization" to "stir up" interest in preparedness and to show what preparedness really means.

It was explained that the day's program in Lowell would be very simple. Volunteers would have to "serve" only about two hours, and this service is not by any means obligatory upon any citizen of Lowell. An opportunity to display one's patriotism and renew allegiance to flag and country in peace, and showing what results would occur, even in time of war's alarms, is the "National Defense Day" program in a nutshell.

The "paper units" and the organized reserves were fully explained by the major. If Lowell could mobilize every man affiliated, some 4000 Lowell citizens would salute the colors on the day of mobilization, it was stated last evening. The idea would be to show just what Lowell can produce by its "unite" in line of defense.

"It would be a highly impressive sight if every unit was filled out—possibly 2500 men would be in line of march in a full unit division of the coming street parade," said Maj. Wilson, enthusiastically.

The general committee's announcement that only men and women between the ages of 15 and 45 years can participate in the street parade from the North or South common starting point, to Lowell Memorial Auditorium, has a "string" to it. Younger folks will be allowed to march with the patriotic throng if they desire to do so, most important, conclude of Holy Name society to be held in the city on the dates named. It would, of course, be impossible to secure the reverend churchman to come to Lowell on "National Defense Day."

Among the names suggested for the speakers' list at the Memorial Auditorium ceremonies in the evening, were those of James D. Williams, Boston Transcript editor; Rev. Isaac Smith and Rev. Percy E. Thomas, Lowell clergymen, and former Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester.

The committee came to no decision in the matter, but expect to have a list of prospective speakers prepared for consideration next Friday night. Considerable discussion followed the bringing up of the Memorial Auditorium mass-meeting plans, now merely a name perspective. Impressive patriotic ceremonies are planned possibly to be staged on the steps and the main plaza of the Auditorium in the early evening. Massing of many American flags will be a feature, with singing patriotic anthems. Supt. Molloy gave the committee last evening many very valuable suggestions, for which he was generously thanked at the close of the rally.

Mr. Molloy thought that a monster chorus of school children might be organized for the flag ceremonies and troopings of the colors, with Mr. Blund present to assist in the musical program under contemporary conditions. It was planned to specially feature the mass meeting that immediately follows the street parade.

If darkness sets in early and the street parade is not concluded until a poor sunset, the committee will have a portable searchlight in readiness to "illuminate" the Auditorium main entrance and the steps, as well as a large section in tribute to the stars and stripes may not be disarranged or cancelled entirely.

It was noted at last night's meeting that no representative of the Lowell police department was present. The suggestion was made, and unanimously approved, that a committee composed of members of the police department, be appointed for the purpose of representing the department in the parade.

Commander Colin C. Macdonald, chairman of the press and publicity committee, reported that energetic efforts have been made to arouse public sentiment in the "National Defense Day" movement, and with marked success thus far, and with marked success in the publicity programs now in embryo form, but to be announced in detail very soon.

Supt. of Schools Molloy took the floor just before the close of the meeting, and said that he had been studying a plan of his own construction, by which every public school in Lowell may observe in very proper fashion "National Defense Day" without any extensive program preparation or arduous work in advance.

Mr. Molloy would select some definite time on Sept. 12, when the schools are in session—possibly 10 o'clock in the morning. This will be on Friday. Teachers could call the children to order for a short space of time, and read a brief statement explaining the true meaning of preparedness for war and "National Defense Day" emphasizing the fact, of course, that preparedness means national security at all times.

The school superintendent suggested that the statement be prepared in advance—that the same statement be read in each Lowell schoolroom, and that it be brief and patriotic.

Said Mr. Molloy further, last evening, "I believe sincerely in this plan, by which all school children of the city, without extra effort, could program methods, may observe 'National Defense Day' in an impressive way, and yet only by employment on the part of school instructors of but a simple, direct effort."

"I would suggest that the brief statement that the school instructors read to their pupils in every class room in the city on Friday next, be first printed in the Lowell morning and afternoon newspapers, on, say Wednesday or Thursday of the same week. The newspapers would reach countless homes, of course, and there is no better way to spread this statement to every section of the city, so that the readers may become familiar with it. This includes the school children, who will read it, also."

Mr. Molloy would have the reading of the brief essay started at the same time in all Lowell institutions for the teaching of youth.

Chief Marshal For Parade

The question of choosing a chief marshal for the street parade, which was left in abeyance, after the matter of Capt. Joseph A. Molloy was presented. Major Percy E. Wilson declined to allow his name to be used. The problem of selecting the chief marshal will probably be settled at the next rally on Friday evening. The parade committee may handle the details covering the appointment.

Mr. Wilson suggested that a budget committee be appointed to handle the distribution of all funds. Commander Macdonald also strongly favored the proposed invocation. General Chairman Major Palmer, delegated to appoint a budget board of three, selected Secretary-Manager Geo. F. Wells, Benjamin Harrington and Albert Bergeron.

The budget committee members and the permanent chairman of the general committee, will be empowered to employ a clerk at a salary.

The second citizens' rally adjourned at 5:45 a. m. all present frankly pleased with the success thus far attained in promoting a comprehensive program for the proper observance of "National Defense Day" in Lowell, on Sept. 12. That Lowell is very high in the list of those New England municipalities now leading the way, is an absolute fact.

LOWELL TEAMSTERS' UNION

Lowell Teamsters' union announces the acceptance of six new members. Several more applications for membership will be acted upon at the next business meeting of the local. At last night's well-attended meeting of the organization President Frank Horn being in the chair, a committee was named to confer with local coat distributors and report the result of the conference to the next meeting of the union.

REGISTRATION IN DRACUT

Ninety and nine new voters have been added to the official Lowell voters' registration lists thus far this year, according to announcement made yesterday by the board of registrars. The Navy Yard district reports 21 new registrations, the Centre 44, Kenwood 14 and Collinsville 22.

Division of Marine and Seamen's Insurance Passes Out of Existence

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—When the division of marine and seamen's insurance of the Veterans' bureau automatically passed out of existence today its books showed a net profit of more than $17,000,000, although it had paid claims totalling $29,497,331. The $50,000,000 appropriated by congress as an operating fund remained intact.

The division was created ten years ago to insure American merchant vessels and their cargoes against the hazards of war.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED IN LOCAL MILK SUPPLY

The quality of milk sold in this city at the present time is nearly up to the seasonal average in solids and fat content, according to Milk Inspector Nelson Master, although during several months past the quality has been far below the average of previous years.

During the summer months, the milk inspector said, there is always a drop in the quality of the milk due, it is believed, to the fact that dairy cows are fed mainly on grass at this time of the year.

Early this summer the milk quality dropped to the summer average, but instead of stopping there the tests disclosed that it was getting lower. Mr. Master and his assistants conducted an investigation into conditions at nearby dairies but were unable to come to any definite conclusion as to the cause of the milk being so low in fat and solids content.

Within the past several weeks there has been a gradual change for the better, the milk inspector said, and he expects the quality will reach the average for this time of the year very soon.

Eighty per cent of the milk supply for Lowell, according to figures computed at the inspector's office, comes from neighboring towns and the remaining twenty per cent is furnished by dairies in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Of the eighty per cent supplied by nearby towns, twenty-two per cent comes from Dracut, twenty per cent from Chelmsford, and the remainder from Billerica, Andover, Littleton, Pelham, N. H., and other towns within a twenty mile radius of this city.

Considerable minor damage was caused by the wind.

Thierry Case is Considered

was found lying at the bottom of the cellar stairs in the numerous superficial cuts. He told the police that a burglar had shot Noble as he entered the house and had then attacked him.

Police investigation, however, developed discovery in the pantry of an Austrian rifle of the same calibre as the fatal bullet, and led to the doctor's arrest on the charge of murder. Police officials said Thierry had shot down Noble as he entered the door, then mutilated himself.

While at the hospital, Dr. Thierry attempted suicide by severing an artery, and later confessed to a middle-aged county physician that for years he had been a confirmed ether addict.

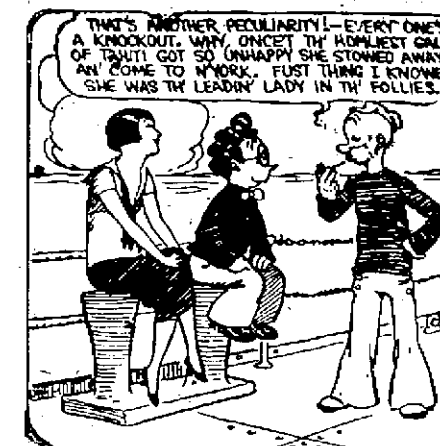

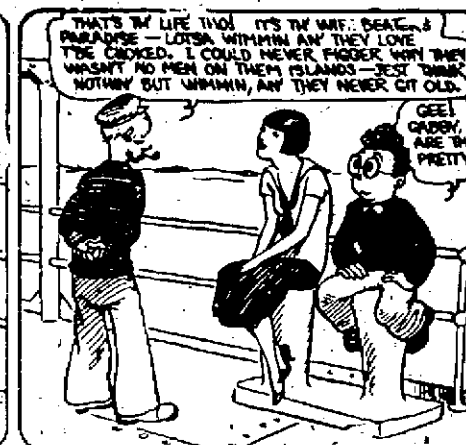

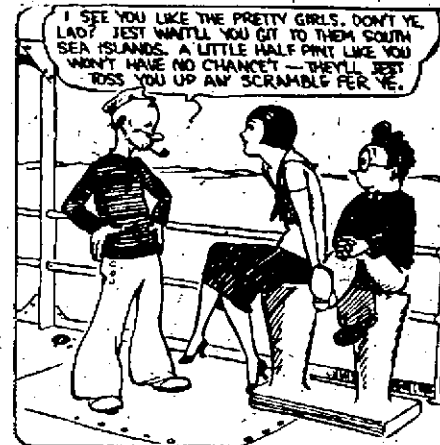

Assistant District Attorney Warren L. Bishop has announced that a motive has been clearly established the nature of which has not been made known. Dr. Thierry was found to have been named by Noble as the beneficiary of insurance policies totalling about $17,000. Noble's wife died of pneumonia last April.

Miss Mary Welch of Somerville, the "blonde in white" who told police she was passing the Thierry house when a shot was fired, was called to testify, as was Roland Longbottom, also of Somerville, her companion. Other prospective witnesses were Mrs. Bessie Emery, a neighbor, who said no one left the house by the rear after the shooting, and Captain Van Amburgh, state pistol expert. He examined the Austrian rifle which Thierry said he had given away, and a bundle of gloves which were found in the dining-room, and said by Thierry to have been burglars' loot.

North Carolina collected $5,000,000 in auto license fees and gasoline taxes for the year ending June 30.

July 2 showed a 19 per cent increase in registrations over that of the same date last year.

LEOPOLD'S WILL MADE PUBLIC

That Chicago Boy Contemplates Possibility of Death Sentence Evicted by Letter

Bequeaths to Field Museum
Choice of Five Objects in Ornithological Collection

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The last will and testament of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., joint confessor with Richard Louis of the kidnapping and murder of Bobby Franks, has been made public.

That Leopold contemplates the possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of a judge is a possibility which has been under consideration, in evidence by a letter he has mailed to Clarence S. Darrow, defense counsel.

The letter bequeaths to the Field Museum five objects in the ornithological collection. Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose of any three articles after the museum has made its selection.

Third, the museum is given the choice of any of Leopold's birds, minerals or transcripts.

In the letter Leopold asked Darrow to notify the beneficiaries as soon as possible—and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing argument. Leopold wrote that he had been content to die, before he heard that argument but that after hearing it he wanted to live. The last will was scratched out under a county jail light on paper supplied by the jailer.

Leopold also has completed plans for attempts to pierce the veil shrouding death, if he is hanged. Although he is an admitted atheist, he says he will not allow himself to be hanged, but he has had an opportunity to demonstrate its invalidity, so he has prepared ten questions which he plans to answer by communicating with friends on earth should he die on the gallows.

Five Cooks Arrested Here On Their Way to Devens

Central and Market street about 10 o'clock last night by Patrolman Paul Leavitt, who stopped the machine in which they were riding, to ascertain the reason for going along without lights. When he asked the driver of the car, William Zichew, for his license and registration, neither certificate could be found. Sergeant Zichew, who stopped the machine, arrived on the scene in time to discover seven one-gallon cans of alcohol in the rear seat together with one quart of alleged whiskey. Zichew was arrested for operating a motor vehicle without license or registration, while the four cooks were booked for drunkenness.

At the police station Federal Agent Walter Sullivan was called into the case and seized the liquor, as well as the Chandler touring car, belonging to Zichew. The latter denied all knowledge of the liquor, saying it must have been placed in his car while he was getting a hair cut in a lawrence barber shop.

Attorney Albert S. Howard appeared as counsel for the rollers in district court this morning. Because of the fact that they are to be arraigned in federal court on the liquor violation tomorrow, the drunkenness charges against four of the defendants were placed on file here. Zichew's license and registration were produced in court. They were sent down from Camp Devens this morning, and defendant was fined $5 on each complaint.

of the incident, and he in turn, notified the police, with the result that officers Daniel Lynch, Daniel Brennan, Francis O'Loughlin, and James Brennan, made a hasty trip to the scene and placed Jette under arrest.

In court this morning, the girl admitted that she had been keeping company with Jette, but filled him lastly when he insisted in carrying a revolver for a secret purpose," he said. She almost collapsed on the witness stand as she sobbingly told of being suddenly confronted with Jette and the revolver when she went to her bedroom about six o'clock last evening. "He was sitting in a closet," she said, "and when I saw the door open I thought it was caused by the wind and paid no attention to it. It opened a second time, however, and when I went to close it, I was met with the revolver. He pointed it straight at me and told me not to say a word. When pointing to the bed, he told me I was not going to sleep there tonight."

When Jette was placed under arrest, the officers failed to find any trace of the gun. Later, the girl's father discovered the weapon, together with a letter, under a piano. Jette pleaded guilty to carrying the gun, but not guilty to threatening. He said he intended giving the gun to the girl last night, as she had requested that he do so on a previous occasion. Her reason, he said, was simply to entertain him in his district while the occupants were away was that he was afraid the girl was going to "throw him over."

SPANISH WAR VETERANS' LABOR DAY OUTING

Lowell Spanish War Veterans' annual Labor day outing conducted at Martin Luther picnic grounds, was a huge success, efficient handling of all arrangements by committee of long experience in supervising similar affairs, being responsible for an outing long to be remembered.

The holiday festival in the open was conducted by active members of Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, U.S.W.V. Able committees also handled the entertainment, the commissary department specializing in luscious foods and delicacies of the season.

Mrs. Sarah McBride, of long-established reputation in the home culinary department, had full charge of all refreshments served at the outing. She was ably assisted in the commissary by Quartermaster Prescott. The latter acted as chief pump-handle expert. Mrs. Elizabeth McBride distributed the tonics provided for one and all twice over and then some.

Mrs. Rose Coleman, Mrs. Thomas Conno and Mrs. Viola Pingree acted as cooks and kitchen police in a way that would put a good many real army kitchen chiefs to shame. Frank Nelson acted as fire-builder and water-tender, as well as clerk of the sports program conducted later in the open. George Everett made the chips fly when he swung his axe in the wood-chopping contest.

L. Pingree was superior of the sports program, each event being enjoyable. John Jacob Rogers' cigars were distributed to all males present.

The prize winners in the outing athletic events were as follows:

Ruth Pingree, first in threading-the-needle contest; Pauline Harrington, second; Miss Landry third; Miss Duffey fourth. Running race for girls brought several contestants. Miss Harrington won first place in the race for large girls; Miss Landry captured second position and Miss Donlin third, with Miss Duffey trailing again.

Miss M. Grady won the race for medium-sized girls. Entrants included Misses B. Landry, A. McLean and C. Sagrue. Miss Rita Prescott defeated Misses R. Carey, A. Riley and M. Dempsey in an exciting race for tiniest girls. The tot's race beat them all, with R. Donnelly No. 1, M. Carey No. 2, A. Morrin third place, R. Carey fourth, and Rita Prescott fifth.

Miss C. Donlon defeated Misses B. Landry, R. Carey and R. Prescott in the girls' ball throwing contest. Miss Landry won the "kiss scramble," the defeated entrants being the Misses Riley, Grady and Carey.

Running races for large boys—First, R. Dempsey; second, J. Donnelly; middle-aged boys, W. Leary, R. Savage; small boys, R. Dempsey, R. Ward. Three-legged race for boys—First, R. Savage and L. Ward; second, G. Nelson and J. Donnelly. Palato race for boys—H. Nelson, L. Ward. Shave and stocking race, W. Bysscot, G. Nelson.

The women's prize-winners: Guessing contest, Mrs. Viola Pingree; walking chalk line, Mrs. Lucraft; Mrs. Young, Mrs. Sarah McBride and Mrs. Donnelly; stout ladies race, Mrs. Donnelly and Mrs. Lucraft; ladies ball-throwing contest, Mrs. Young, Miss Richardson and Miss Kennen.

The men's prize-winners: Clam race, first, Donnelly and Leary; second, Lussier and Conney; hop, step and jump, Richardson, Crowley and Lussier; ball-throwing, Lussier and Pingree; Japanese wrestling, Pingree, Lucraft and Richardson; shot-put, Arthur Conney; fat men's race, Richardson, Lussier and Pingree.

The ball game was hotly contested. Lussier's Sanlago Tarantulas winning by a score of 10 to 5, notwithstanding an excellent game put up by Richardson's Manila Serpents, who claimed that Lussier was losing his eye on close decisions.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen, rival of Chiang Tso-lin, military dictator of Manchuria, is planning a northern expedition with his Hunan, Kiangsi and Kwangtung troops.

Reports from Mukden province to the same news agency say that two Manchurian armies are moving toward the great wall from two directions.

Major Battle Tomorrow

Although a large number of troops are engaged in the conflict, reports received here from Chekiang say that no material advantage has been gained by either side.

It is said that the engagement today is preliminary to a major battle at Ningshan tomorrow, 12 miles from Shanghai.

According to information given out from Lungwha military headquarters the first shots were fired at Hwangtu today in the northern troops. Chi Shieh-Yuan had moved large reinforcements to Hwangtu.

The eastern column is reported to be proceeding along the Liao river with Changtehru, a city 110 miles north-east of Peking, as its immediate objective, while the western column is moving towards Chinchow.

200,000 Men Engaged

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Actual fighting between the forces of two rival provincial military governors was reported in progress today in this district with Shanghai and the extreme eastern portion of Kiangsu province as the prize.

Although reports received here yesterday from points along the line of the conflict, the so-called independent Chinese fleet, enlisted in the service of General Lu Yung-Hsiang, was reported anchored in the Whangpoo river opposite the Kiangsi arsenal, which is one of the objectives of the forces of Chi Shieh-Yuan.

The Chinese warcraft was reported in the Chusan archipelago, off the coast southeast of Shanghai, today, ready to intercept any aid which Chang Tso-lin, war lord of Manchuria and supporter of General Lu might dispatch to Nanchow by sea.

Civil War Has Begun

TOKIO, Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Official despatches received by the Japanese foreign office say that civil war has actually begun in China. The navy department announced today that the cruiser Tatsuta has left the Sasebo naval base for Shanghai with 150 marines.

The cruiser is due at Shanghai at 5 p. m. Thursday and will report to Admiral Nomura, commander of the Japanese Yangtze squadron. Admiral Nomura is a former attaché of the Japanese embassy at Washington.

Reinforcements to Shanghai
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Reinforcements from the Asiatic naval squadrons of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan have been ordered to Shanghai to protect their nationals during the clash between the rival factions of the adjoining provinces of Chekiang and Kiangsu.

The vast harbor of Shanghai is occupied by the ships of many nations, and Dr. Wellington Koo, the Peking foreign minister, after being told that every means possible would be employed to protect the various nations, was advised further by the diplomatic agents of the four powers, acting together, that a naval battle in those waters "could not be tolerated."

New Hats for the Fall

SHAPE; RIGHT, UPTURNED BRIM OF BEAVER CLOTH.

The fall hat is ready to make its bow to the waiting world of women, and here are three of its most subtle interpretations.

These models, you will notice, each present a new line in millinery and are actually new styles.

The high-crowned mushroom shape of black beaver cloth with a moire ribbon stick-up and two birds' heads for trimming is the shape that is taking the place of the cloche.

Direct from Paris is the black satin model with the amazing black velvet bow and the upturned brim. There is a suggestion of the Directoire here which will probably develop with the season.

The upturned brim of the beaver cloth model gives something of the effect of the tam-o'-shanter, but it is a little more tailored and much smarter. The broad ribbon bow across the back adds to the youthfulness.

MATRIMONIAL

Smith-Slatery
Mr. Joseph Slatery and Miss Kathleen Smith, two well-known residents of St. Patrick's parish, were united in marriage Monday evening at the rectory of St. Patrick's church by Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L. Mr. John Slatery and Mrs. James Alexander attended the couple as best man and matron of honor respectively. The bride was beautifully attired in brown flat crepe with hat to match and carried bridal roses. The matron of honor wore blue and gray crepe with hat to match and carried Ophele roses. A wedding supper was served following the ceremony at which guests were present from New York, Detroit and Chelsea. The bride's gift to her attendant was a gold piece while the bridegroom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Slatery left on an extended wedding tour to Connecticut and western Massachusetts and upon their return they will make their home at 57 South Loring street where they will be at home to friends after October 1.

time, the airmen passed over the cruiser Milwaukee, stationed about 100 miles from Hawkes bay.

Along the coast of the flight, the destroyers Charles Ausburn, Coughlan and McFarland were stationed to direct the airmen as they passed overhead, giving them correct headings, and to render assistance, if necessary. The destroyer Barry, acting as station ship at Picton, was held in readiness to steam at full speed to the assistance of the fliers if aid was needed. The Canadian destroyer Patriot also was prepared for this purpose.

All the other ships on station were instructed to follow at 25 knots along the route for two hours after the passing of the planes.

Due in Boston Tomorrow
HAWKES BAY, N. F., Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Coming down out of the north, with worst stages of their long journey behind them, the American army world fliers are planning to close the remaining gaps between them and "home" in quick order.

With good flying weather Lieutenant Lowell Smith and his companions hope to get away today for Picton harbour, Nova Scotia, 120 miles to the southwest and to continue on toward Boston tomorrow, with a stop at St. John's, New Brunswick, for fuel. The distance from Picton to St. John is roughly 200 miles and from St. John to Boston 320 miles.

At Picton the airmen will find awaiting them Lieutenants Leigh Wade and H. H. Ogden, whose plane, the "Boston," was wrecked after a forced landing at sea between the Orkney Islands and Iceland. Wade and Ogden have been provided with another plane, christened the "Boston II," in which they hope to accompany their comrades to the Pacific coast, thus completing the first aerial journey around the world.

The latter part of the flight here

Conditions Unfavorable
PICTON, N. S., Sept. 3.—After the destroyer chaser for the Hawke Bay-Picton 375-mile leg of the world flight had been lined up today, the destroyer Harry sent word by radio from here to Lieut. Smith that fog and rain made conditions unfavorable. It was believed this would cause postponement of the flight, as the weather became thicker, with heavy rain, later.

Picton was all dressed up for the American fliers' coming, with streets gaily decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and welcome signs hanging from windows and from business houses. The fliers had sent word down that their stay would be short, because they want to hop for Boston on that day.

Fog Along Coast
CURLING, N. F., Sept. 3.—Weather conditions along the west coast of Newfoundland today were unfavorable for the around-the-world fliers to make the jump to Picton, N. S., that was planned. Fog was reported at several points between here and Hawke Bay, where the fliers spent the night.

As a result of a fire in a building in Race street on the morning of March 6, John Tsaffaras and Peter J. Courembis, both of this city, yesterday afternoon were sentenced respectively to serve nine months and one year in the house of correction at Cambridge. Tsaffaras was sentenced on a charge of arson and Courembis on a charge of being an accessory to a felony.

In the midst of their trial before Judge Richard T. Irvin in the local county court, the men changed their pleas to guilty and the court pronounced sentences just before adjournment at 4 p. m.

The government's case, composed of testimony by nearly a dozen witnesses had not been completed when a conference of counsel for the defendants held up the trial. Out of this conference came the decision to retract pleas of not guilty and lean upon the mercy of the court.

The conference followed discussion of a fine point of law, raised by Albert S. Howard, counsel for Courembis, when he objected to questions by Assistant District Attorney Bushnell relative to insurance policies carried by Courembis on the property he owned in Race street. Mr. Howard contended that inasmuch as there was no charge in the indictment against his client of burning his own property with intent to defraud an insurance company, such questions as the prosecuting officer wished to ask of a witness were not admissible and furthermore, if Courembis were not charged with an intent to defraud he had committed no crime either under the statutes or under common law.

The property in question in Race street was owned by Courembis and it was the government's contention that he and Tsaffaras conspired together to destroy it by fire in order that Courembis might collect $4000 in insurance. The government further alleged that Courembis offered money to Tsaffaras to do the job. At about the time the fire was discovered Tsaffaras was seen running away from the vicinity and later was arrested near the home of Courembis in Varnum avenue.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warms Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarated Magnesia, especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

His hands were badly burned as was a coat said to belong to him which was found near the Race street building.

In passing sentence Judge Irvin said he felt that Courembis should be given the suffer term, as he believed he was the originator of the idea to burn the building.

I Am Clean

ONE REASON FOR MY BEAUTY

By Edna Wallace Hopper

This is to the millions of women who wish to know how I have kept my youth and beauty after 33 years as a stage star. And how at a grandmother's age I manage to look like a girl.

One thing is this: I never use soap and water on my face. Soap removes just the surface dirt, and that has nothing to do with the skin.

Lucile Lantelme, the famous Parisian beauty, told me how she kept her skin so absolutely clean. Then I went to her experts and secured the same method.

Since then the method has come into world-wide use, but only through beauty experts. The result is so marvelous that all of them charged high prices for the product. Some charged $3, some $5, for the formula, so only the few know how much it can do.

Now I am placing this formula at every woman's call. I have named it my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fats, so the skin cannot absorb it. It simply penetrates the pores to the depths, then departs. All the grime, all the dead skin and clogging matter comes out with it. Wash your face in the way you know, then apply my Facial Youth. You will be amazed at the extra grime and clogging matter which comes out with it.

This is the first step in fine complexion—an absolutely clean skin. This method is the only way to get it. Once you know what it means you will never go without it. I have placed this formula with all druggists, all toilet counters. The price is 75c despite the fact that others charge ten times as much.

You need my Facial Youth. It is impossible, they tell me, to look your best without it. It is the only facial cleanser which really cleans.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send you it something for nothing, please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.—Adv.

LEGION POST HOLDS ROUTINE MEETING

A routine meeting of the Lowell Post of the American Legion was held last evening at the legion headquarters in the Memorial Auditorium.

George A. McCarthy, senior vice-commander presiding.

Considerable discussion arose on the subject of the annual legion ball which is to be held on Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11. Because of the

FRATERNAL NEWS

A meeting of Past Presidents' association of Princess Lodge was held last evening at the home of P. P. Annie Northam in Sycamore street. There was a large attendance at the meeting and the association was host to Grand President Tryon of Manchester, N. H., and Past President Booth of Akron, Ohio. Both guests were called upon for remarks and spoke briefly on the work of the association throughout the country. It was voted at the business meeting to hold a fair and dance on Sept. 13.

Owing to the lack of fragrance in flowers used for table decorations in London hotels and restaurants, the blooms are being fortified by synthetic perfumes.

These Girls too Ill to Attend School

DAUGHTER OF MRS. VLEGHER, NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO

At no age does a young girl need greater care than from the time she reaches the age of twelve years until womanhood is established. Many a woman has suffered years of misery because as a girl she has been allowed to sit around with wet feet, lift heavy articles, overwork and overstudy. In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It is a root and herb medicine, contains nothing harmful and may be taken in perfect safety by any school girl.

This Mother's Letter and Daughter's Photograph of Interest to Every American Mother

NORTH BALTIMORE, OHIO.—"My fourteen-year-old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound every month for weakness. One of her classmates in school who had the same trouble told her about it. She said: 'My mother makes me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So that day she came home and told me and we got some the next day. She took three bottles of it and never has to stay home from school now from sickness. She is strong and well. I am sure, if any mother writes to me I will be glad to answer her letter."—Mrs. VLEGHER, Box 61, North Baltimore, Ohio.

Another Mother Tells What It Did for Her Daughter

DANDRIDGE, TENN.—"My daughter was not able to go to school for almost a year because of pains in her side and other troubles girls often have. I was just studying one day when I could give her that would help her when I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided I would get it for her. Since taking it she has gained to normal weight and goes to school all the time."—Mrs. GEORGE HILGERT, Dandridge, Tenn.

LA FOLLETTE AND WHEELER

La Follette and Wheeler have delivered their fulminations against the major political parties; but have given the people nothing new nor constructive. La Follette followed his old line of attack on special interests and private monopoly which he asserted are protected by certain laws and the failure to protect others and whose power has enthralled the two major parties. He told what he will do if elected, toward providing an equal chance in life for everybody, and he will drive out the special interests without mercy.

La Follette has evidently set out to make the masses believe that conditions are worse than they really are that the democratic party as well as the republican is responsible. In that he willfully misrepresents the situation and assumes the role of a demagogue.

Senator Wheeler takes a different tack in his arraignment of the republican party as responsible for the corruption exposed in the last session of congress and still fresh in the minds of the people. So far as he kept to the facts, he was tolerable, but when he turned and assailed John W. Davis as being identified with the same interests and equally unreliable and untrue to the people, he stated what is not true and thereby gave an illustration of his agility as a political mountebank.

The fact is, that La Follette and Wheeler represent the ultra radical elements of the country and among their most ardent supporters are the socialists who abdicated the field they have occupied for years in order to let these worthies lead a third party.

This independent ticket is a bolt from the republican convention and platform led by La Follette and while its avowed purpose is not socialistic, its main support is of that persuasion. It would, therefore, be a mistake for any democrat to throw away a vote on this third party ticket.

AN ALARMING DECISION

President Coolidge has decided that he will suspend the work of raising the gun elevations on the thirteen older battleships as proposed by the navy department. He has done this in deference to the protest entered by England, claiming that to go ahead now, might start another competition in naval armaments. The president evidently does not wish to stand on the question of right at this time. It may be that the foreign diplomats fooled our easy-going officials at Washington in the arms conference.

The navy department is greatly alarmed over the decision, inasmuch as the gun range of these battleships is about two miles less than the British battleships and yet they count in the 5-5-3 ratio fixed under the reduction of armament treaty signed during the Harding administration.

Thus it appears, that in a naval conflict with England, our battleships could stand off two miles beyond the range of our guns and send our boasted men-of-war to the bottom of the ocean. Yet whether that condition shall remain, or whether we must bow to the will of England in fixing the range of the guns on our battleships, will be left to the powers who signed the Washington arms treaty—England, France, Italy, Japan and the United States. A majority of these powers, it is safe to say, will decide that their special interests will best be served by keeping the range of our battleships just as it is at present.

What childishness! President Coolidge allows that the change, if made now, would cause a competition in naval armaments that the European nations cannot afford. He would rather they would use their spare cash to pay what they owe to the United States; but the American people, unless we are mistaken, would prefer to settle for themselves without the aid of rival powers, that the range of the guns on our battleships shall at least be equal to that of the guns of rival navies. If we are granted an equality with England in the number of battleships, why should we not be permitted to have equality in the essential features of those ships. It is plain that a battleship with a range of 20,000 yards—and we have seven such—would be but a helpless target for British guns, the lowest range of which is 23,500 yards, making a minimum difference of practically two miles.

It is of greater importance to overcome this weakness in our national armament than to hold the proposed National Defense day. Congress had appropriated $5,000,000 for the proposed increase of gun elevations; but to the dismay of the navy department, the project is suspended because of the protest of England. If the arms treaty binds this country to naval inferiority, as here indicated, it is time we withdraw from the compact instead of boasting of it as the main achievement of the Harding administration. We have junked several battleships under that treaty; and we might as well junk nearly a dozen others unless we are permitted to increase the range of their guns to equal that of the guns of other first-class powers.

NOW FOR A BUSY EUROPE

Now that the Dawes plan of settling the reparations issue has been adopted by the European powers interested, the next step is to provide a loan of $200,000,000 promised to Germany. This amount, it is expected, will enable Germany to start up some of her industries that have been in a rather languishing condition ever since the war. It is surprising, however, to find that a very considerable volume of the imports to this country and South America are of German manufacture. France, too, will require a loan, provided the payments to be made by Germany fail to enable her to meet her financial obligations and at the same time to get her industries back to normal activity. France has done wonderful work in the line of reconstruction; and it is to be hoped that the new arrangement will enable her to repair the ravages of the war, to restore her farming industry to its former high status and also to bring her manufacturing industries back to a state of prosperity. Belgium is also to negotiate a loan of $100,000,000, a sum, which to her, will assist very materially in enabling her industries to get started on the road to prosperity.

Her Own Fish

"You poor fish!" This remark was overheard in the New York aquarium. In these city institutions they always try to instruct the public. "You poor fish!" An attendant immediately approached, bowed politely to the lady and said: "They do not mind being in the tanks. There they are well fed and also protected from their natural enemies. It is doubtful if they know their liberty is in any way restricted. So you need not feel sorry for the fish." But the lady was addressing her remarks to her husband.

Fitted With Boring Drill

A cone of the mollusk family, called "Glory of the Sea," is the rarest and most sought specimen of sea shells; only a dozen are known to exist. Their ivory background is touched with delicate rose and orange, over which is a more rose lacelike fretwork of small triangles ranging from yellow to chestnut brown. They are equipped with a proboscis that has 60 sharp teeth arranged in pairs and barbed like fishhooks. With these they can bite their way into the shells of other mollusks in order to feed on the defenseless animals within.—Monitor Magazine.

The Arrow and the Song

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has such the swift, soft tongue
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Miss Margaret McCuskey, of Methuen street, who is touring Europe with her brother, Dr. Richard J. McCuskey and the doctor's wife, has written another interesting letter to a member of the Sun staff in which she states that the party has reached Ireland and found the birthplaces of both father and mother. "Now that we have discovered those places," she writes, "it seems that we have turned our faces toward home again. We go from Belfast to Dublin, to Limerick, Killarney, Cork, Queenstown and good old New York. I think my last letter was from Paris. We went from there to London and spent nearly two weeks in England. We drove through the beautiful Shropshire country in a downpour of rain, visited Salgrave manor, the home of the Washingtons, Oxford and Eton colleges, and many other places of interest, not forgetting Westminster Abbey, York cathedral and the beautiful Roman Catholic cathedral. The doctor served Father Tattan's mass. Yes, Kate and Henry Tattan was once connected with St. Michael's church in Lowell. We had the pleasure of his company for a few days.

Edinburgh I liked better than London. "The Goddess town" it has been called. The Athens of Great Britain is a city of spires, monuments and gardens. From the windows of our hotel we could see the dark crags of the castle with its thousand years of history, its chambers of purple shadow.

Here we were shown an ancient cannon, the longest made with its armor-laden wheels and castles, many of them. We saw the bricked-up wall where a baby skeleton had been found; the room wherein Mary of Guise died, the crown of Bruce kept in a glass case with the "honors of Scotland."

Margaret's chapel is the smallest church in Scotland and here was firmly kept a relic of the true cross until it went in state down the hill to make Hollywood holy.

From the castle grounds we had an excellent view of the surrounding country, hills, valleys and mountains, towns and nesting villages, the vast colorful checkerboard of many Stuarths' journeys, flights and lightings. We drove around Salisbury, and Arthur's seat and to Hollywood palace, the seat on the high seas now homeward bound.

Lowell manufacturers are taking up the subject of "industrial preparedness" as a suitable project in which the men who produce goods, used daily by human beings may work intelligently and profitably to all engaged in planning for the success of "National Defense Day" locally. This day actually presents but one of the "how to" of national preparedness, so to speak. It provides the test of the first real test in peacetime in our history—the nation's man power and of its effective organization.

Another side is that of industrial preparedness, and, although the subject of defense test in which President Coolidge has asked the co-operation of all patriotic citizens. All not test directly the preparedness of our industries, it may be said that industrial preparedness has kept pace with the plans for the quick mobilization in emergency of man power. New England is "divided" into two districts in the industrial survey. The war department makes allocations for New England to districts manufacturing textiles, brass, machine tools and boot and shoe industries. More than 11,000 industries have already been "listed" by the war department and "listed" by the survey has three years to bring a complete list. When this is done, the government will have a fairly clear conception of the industrial resources of the country at large.

One of the big hands on the silent clock on the small tower on the roof of the old Boston and Maine railroad station, has moved along five minutes in its former stationary position—twenty minutes past three. It may tip end of the hour hand, perhaps, or even a jolt from the blast of that tornado-labeled wind that struck Lowell the other day. Anyhow, the hand of the historic timepiece that tried to be scanned by thousands of men, women and children in Lowell daily for many years, appears to be gradually creeping around to the half-hour mark.

The 10th annual convention of the Society of the Assumption (Academy of the United States) which was held here Sunday and Monday proved one of the most important of its kind ever witnessed locally. Delegates from New York, Washington, D. C., Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts attended, totalling over 250. The religious services which opened the convention on Sunday morning were such as to arouse the spiritual sentiment of those attending while the business and entertainment sessions proved equally incentive, materially speaking. Pierre LeBlanc, a local man, was re-elected president-general of the organization. Aime Gionet is president of the local branch of the society.

One of the local mayoralty candidates while watching a ball game on the South common the other day, stopped between innings to fill and light his pipe. When about to strike a match in some way he happened to drop his match box and the contents were scattered all over the ground. He stooped down, picked up one match, lit it and puffed away at his old briar. With this over he proceeded to pick up the fallen, "timber." It was a slow, monotonous job, but he stuck to it until every one was gathered up. A party who watched the interesting salvaging expedition remarked that if the candidate should be successful on election day and going to city hall practised such economy and thrift with the city's finances, etc., he ought to prove a good executive. Possibly it would be said that the one who didn't use either tobacco or matches would be still more economic.

EAGLES VOTE TO PARADE ON DEFENSE DAY

A regular meeting of Lowell Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was held last evening at Eagles hall, 34 Goreham street, with worthy President Thomas E. Quinn in the chair.

A considerable amount of routine business was transacted and reports from officers and committees received. A communication was received from the citizens' committee, in connection with Defense day celebration and the aerie voted to take part in the parade on that day.

Plans for the joint outing of Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill and Derry, N. H., aeries on Sunday, Sept. 21, were discussed and the outing committee authorized to complete arrangements for the affair.

The building committee reported that the new home of this aerie will be turned over to them within a month, and the entertainment committee was authorized to conduct an "open night" in connection with this event.

The end of a thrill

It's nice to look forward to vacation time and it's bully to plan on a rest. You need recreation when hot is the climate cause a loaf gives you back used up zest.

The day that you start on your week or two trip is 'like shootin' the chutes, one might say. Your mind is at ease and it's dippin' the dip, like a youngster of five at its play.

You start at the top of the vacation ride and you skim through the air, downward bound. The world at its best is just casually eyed as the trip takes you 'round and around.

Of course you hang on as you're spinning through space for you know that the ride will be short. You're takin' no chances on losin' your place in the wonderful vacation sport.

And then, one more curve and you feel your ride jerk, and the ending just gives you a spill. You fall down through space and you land back at work. It's the end of a wonderful thrill.

HELD JACKSON RALLY IN LIBERTY HALL

A rally in the interests of James Jackson, former state treasurer and now a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, was held last night in Liberty hall. In addition to the candidates there were present as speakers Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, old Yankee Division commander; John L. Hurley of Boston and Mrs. Henry Preston White, a prominent worker among women voters throughout the state.

Liberty hall was comfortably filled with local republicans, augmented by a score or more from neighboring towns. The meeting was presided over by Col. Charles A. Stevens of this city, one of the original Jackson men and an active worker in the present campaign. Music by Regan's Military band enlivened the proceedings before, during and after the rally.

Gen. Edwards, Mr. Hurley and Mrs. White did not fail to stress the point in their addresses that James Jackson by training, experience and natural ability is the best equipped man before the voters for the office of governor. Gen. Edwards particularly commented upon his work as the sixth head of the Red Cross organization during the war and told a number of colorful human interest stories to bring home this point.

The candidate himself took occasion to state his belief in textile schools as a means of preparing young men for manufacturing pursuits. He said he once had been misinterpreted in a statement relative to such institutions and wished to correct any false impression which still might obtain.

Mrs. White was the first speaker in California about one-third of the cutover timber lands are still unproductive.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

One of the most compelling and primitive love stories ever told on the screen, is embodied in "The Covered Wagon"—Emerson Hough's novel which was pictured by James Cruze for Paramount with a feature cast. The picture is the feature at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week.

The romance between Molly Winton, the belle of old Liberty town, and young Will Barton, late of Doniphan's army in the war with Mexico, with a clouded record which brings about near disaster for the lovers of both, is not only beautiful but inspiring. There is all the strength of passion, the rugged charm and the wilderness sweetness that characterized the country in the days of '48.

A bitter rival in the character of Sam Woodhull causes untold trouble, but in the end all comes right. The production is one of exceptional massiveness. Thousands of persons appear in the varied scenes, fully one thousand being full-blooded Indians, all descendants of the savages who harassed the wagon trains as they crossed the plains during the gold rush period of 1849. There are many dramatic scenes, the chief of these being Indian attacks on the wagon trains, a real buffalo hunt and a thrilling prairie fire.

R. F. KEITH THEATRE

The Melstersingers, New England's most noted musical organization, is giving twice daily during the present week one of its unique programs of vocal music. The members of the organization, 12 in number, belong to three of the best known quartets in this part of the country, and their engagement by the Keith management is only for a limited period of time. The remainder of the bill holds many bright points, including the act of Johnny Sully and Muriel Thomas. It is a singing-dancing-comedy affair which holds unusual spots. Smith and Duane are a pair of harmonizers and Wilcox and LaGrave present "The White Collar Man," a diverting comedy. Jack Handley is one of the best of comedy jugglers and Jackie and Billie are two beautiful cockatoos. One of them talks. "The Code of the Wilderness" is the picture attraction.

HIALTO THEATRE

man to come home at night and soak his feet in a tub of hot water while his son plays him a tune on the fiddle. But it's rather hard on mother's clean floors if the mail man forgets his lameness and starts to do a jig in the tub.

"The Mail Man," coming to the Hialto theatre tomorrow is full of amusing touches, so human in their comedy that they mirror one's own home life. It is in these splendid moments of relief from the upward trend of drama in the story that Emory Johnson, the director, excels.

Johnson knows the value of breaking into the thread of the plot when details begin to get heavy, to give the audience just a few minutes to digest what has gone before. This deft handling enables his spectators to follow easily each succeeding step in the story's denouement, and makes his productions highly pleasing.

Besides Ralph Lewis, who plays the little role, "The Mail Man" cast includes Josephine Walker, Taylor Graves, Josephine Adair, Martha Sleeper, Rosemary Cooper, Virginia True, Boardman, Dave Kirby and Hardee Kirkland. Most of these favorites appeared in support of Lewis in one of the former Johnson pictures, "The

RULES FOR OPERATION OF MOTOR TRUCKS

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—New rules and regulations governing the operation and use of motor trucks are expected to be formulated in the near future, as a result of the passage by the last legislature of a law which became operative yesterday, the thirty days required by the constitution having expired Monday at midnight.

Under the new law, the state department of public works, through its division of highways, is permitted to make rules and regulations which have all the force of law. William F. Williams, commissioner of public works, stated yesterday that he will prepare in the near future a tentative draft of the new rules, on which a public hearing will be given just as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. After such hearing, the division may revise the tentative draft, or put it into effect without change, as it sees fit.

The new law amends chapter ninety of the general laws, which is the motor vehicle statute, by adding the following new section:

Section 31A.—The division after a public hearing may make, and may alter, rescind or add to, rules and regulations for the reasonable and proper control and regulation of the transportation by motor vehicle of personal property over the ways of this commonwealth, except ways under the control of the metropolitan district commission. Said rules and regulations shall cover, among other matters which the division may deem necessary or desirable, the fixing of routes with respect to the physical capacity of such ways to carry traffic; the establishment of the maximum weight of loads per commercial motor vehicle and per such of tire in contact with the surface of such ways; and the regulation of the rate of speed of such vehicles over such ways. Said rules and regulations and any changes therein shall be subject to approval, and shall take effect, in the manner provided by section six of chapter sixteen. Any person convicted of a violation of any rule or regulation made under this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars, and in case of a second or subsequent offense the registration of the vehicle or vehicles involved shall be suspended for such length of time as the division may determine.

Any person convicted of a violation of any rule or regulation made under this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars, and in case of a second or subsequent offense the registration of the vehicle or vehicles involved shall be suspended for such length of time as the division may determine.

North Cambridge Wins Third and Deciding Battle in Series With Abbots

NO. CAMBRIDGE DEFEATS ABBOTS AND WINS LEAGUE HONORS

Cantabs Take Third and Final Game of Series by 6-1 Score—Will Play Post-Season Series With Lawrence—Abbots Had Big Year

Abbot Worsters forfeited their right to further consideration for Greater Boston League honors by dropping a seven-inning game to North Cambridge at Russell field, Cambridge, last night. The score was 6 to 1 with the greater part of the game being staged in semi-darkness and amid flashes of lightning that interrupted the play.

Shortly after the game was called, rain fell in torrents. The Cantabs used Eddie Gill, former catcher of the Abbots, on the mound, while Babe Mitchell performed for the Graniteville outfit. Both twirlers allowed five hits, but Abbots' errors allowed the home team material to get off to an early lead of four runs, while Abbots were held scoreless.

It was a tough night for baseball, and while the atmospheric conditions may have interfered somewhat with Abbots' chances, North Cambridge was not to be denied. Mitchell did not appear to possess his usual repertoire. His catcher, McQuinn, was wild in his throws to second. Billie Urann surprised everybody by cutting twice, and Dameron dropped one at first that started all the trouble. As the rule, the Abbots play at night.

It was the third consecutive win in the proposed five-game series between these two teams to decide the winner of the second half in the Boston circuit. If Abbots had won last night's clash, the fourth game was to be played at Abbot field tonight. This evening, the reverse of the last engagement, and North Cambridge will prepare now to battle the Lawrence Independents, winners of the first half, for the season's championship. The series will be one of seven games, the winner of four to be declared champions.

Notwithstanding the loss of the Cantabs, the Abbots deserve credit for the sportsmanship displayed by them all during the season. The management spared no expense to give fans one of the greatest collection of diamond stars in this section of New England, and after an unimpeachable start, they went out and engaged in the hottest twilight pen-

Question
1. Can a player bat improperly and then hit again in the same inning? When he batted his regular turn? When he batted improperly, the mistake was discovered and he was made to bat properly, who ruled the proper batter out.
—B. B. G.
2. Ground rule is that on a batted ball into a certain restricted territory, the batsman shall be entitled to two bases. All runners advance that many. Ball batted out of restricted territory and batter is thrown out at second. What is the correct ruling on such a play?
3. Left hander is pitching and gets into trouble. With three right-handers in the box, manager of team in a substitute pitcher, but right hander is pitcher to play right field. Substitute pitcher retires side without further scoring. Can the regular pitcher, sent to right field, return to the rubber at the start of the next inning?
—F. D. S.
Answers
1. If a player bats improperly in a certain inning and the mistake is discovered before a ball is pitched to a succeeding batter, on appeal to the umpire, the proper batsman must be declared out. The player who batted improperly has a perfect right to bat again in the same inning if the regular pitcher is entitled to second base. When a ball is batted into a restricted territory it becomes dead and there is no chance for a play if the ball bounds out on the playing field. Batsman was entitled to second base. If it is a fair ball, the pitcher or the regular pitcher to return to the rubber at the start of the next inning. When shifted to right field he continues in the lineup and can again be used as a pitcher.

TILDEN RETAINS TENNIS CROWN

Philadelphian Wins the National Singles Title for Fifth Consecutive Year

Defeated Johnston of San Francisco in Final Round 6-1, 9-7, 6-2

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—William T. Tilden, II, of Philadelphia, today holds more securely than ever the lawn tennis throne he has ruled for the past four years. Gaining his fifth successive national championship triumph yesterday by crushing William M. Johnston of San Francisco, in the final round, 6-1, 9-7, 6-2, the titleholder, in the opinion of veteran critics, clinched his place as the greatest racket wizard of all time.

Johnston was a courageous figure in defeat but he badly beaten. The fiery game that had smothered Patterson the day before was impotent against the versatile, resourceful and irascible back of the titleholder. Johnston found his swiftness forebodingly returned with even greater pace and went down to defeat under a dazzling mixture of shots that rained on him from every angle. No player in the world could have withstood that battery of guns and Johnston did well to hold back his opponent as long as he did.

It was Tilden's fifth triumph over "Little Bill" in the past six years that have crossed rackets in the title tournament. Not since he downed "Big Bill" in the finals of 1915 has the Philadelphia been able to overcome his Philadelphia rival.

The tourney was notable also for bringing two outstanding young middle western stars to the fore. Foremost of these was George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, 17-year old national champion, who eliminated H. Norris Williams, and advanced to the last eight before losing to Patterson. The other was John Hennessey of Indianapolis, who accounted for the last international triumph, including a notable victory over Jean Borotra, champion of Europe before he was beaten by Wallace Johnson.

DODGERS MOVE UP BY WINNING TWIN BILL FROM PHILLIES

Giants Lose Game by Exchanging Bows With Braves—Yanks Divide Honors With Red Sox—Ruth Forced to Retire—Detroit Virtually Falls Out of Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Brooklyn Dodgers took both games from Philadelphia yesterday in the battle for National League honors, winning by scores of 12 to 4 and 4 to 2. The second game being called in the fifth inning.

The Giants exchanged bows with Boston, Croes beat them 7 to 3 in the first game but McQuinn held the Braves to five hits in the second for a tie to victory.

The youthful Pirates and the Cubs were restrained by rain at Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Ruth retired from the second game with a lame left arm, but the difficulty is not serious.

Detroit virtually fell out of the race, seven games back of Washington, by dropping two to the fall-enders, the White Sox, who almost climbed out of the cellar. In the first game Thurston allowed seven hits in the 6 to 2 victory, his 18th of the season.

Lyons went the route in the 5 to 1 win of the second but Leonard was knocked from the box.

Cleveland drove Shocker off the mound and won a 12 to 4 verdict over the Browns. Jamieson had a 15 to 15 record. Philadelphia was not scheduled.

IOWA CITY, Sept. 3.—An armless boy is expected to be the outstanding star of the Iowa University track team next year. His name is Harold Vestermark, and he is a sophomore.

Vestermark will go in both for the sprints and the distances. Coach Bresnahan is counting on him particularly for the 100-yard dash.

Vestermark's legs are superbly developed. Bresnahan calls them "the perfect running type."

Vestermark fell from a tree when a boy, fractured both arms and lost them when blood poisoning set in.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The White Sox of 1909, said White, by way of comparison.

You will recall the White Sox were known as the "Littles" because of their small size. In the organization, yet we won a pennant and world series that year.

White had a tight ball club. While we never made many runs, we usually kept the opposition from doing so well. Our team was strong defensively and had the happy faculty of making hits count.

"Any time a White Sox pitcher lost a ball game in which he was given three or four runs to work on, he had to do a lot of explaining in the clubhouse."

Washington is a tight ball club and is going to be tough to beat," was White's conclusion.

Unquestionably the Nationals lack the batting punch of New York, Detroit or St. Louis.

On these three clubs practically every player in the lineup is dangerous. Some of the so-called weak links are the hardest to fool in a pinch.

On the other hand, Washington is a tighter club than any of the trio. In a sense it is going to be difficult to offense down the stretch with the Nationals.

The 1923 registration totaled 2302 and Headmaster Henry H. Harris said today that he will welcome the seven new regular teachers who have been assigned to the school this fall.

TRIPLE-COMBINATION PUMPING ENGINE

The purchase of a triple-combination pumping engine with a rated capacity of 1000 gallons per minute, is recommended by Fire Chief Edward F. Saunders and a requisition for such an engine is now in the mayor's office.

The apparatus requisitioned, it is understood, is to take the place of the Robinson 750-gallon pumping engine known as Engine 3 and located at the Central fire station. This engine is one of the oldest in the department and for several months past has been used as a chemical and hose wagon only. The pump is out of order and cannot be repaired.

For several months after the Association building fire there was considerable agitation to have at least one pump rated at 1000 gallons or more located in this city. Following the New England fire chief convention in Boston in July, a new 1000-gallon, triple-combination pumping engine was given a demonstration here and met with general favor. Chief Saunders was highly impressed with the engine's performance and said at the time he would recommend at a later date the purchase of a pumping engine of the thousand-gallon capacity type.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Fluctuating within narrow and irregular limits, stock prices failed to develop a clearly defined trend at the opening of today's market. Steel and copper issues were reactionary, but advances took place in a number of specialties, including Goodyear preferred, which moved up a point. American Agricultural Chemical preferred declined 1/4.

Buying of gas company shares featured the secondary dealings with Columbia Gas rising a point and Brooklyn Union Gas 1/4 to new 124 top price at 73 1/2. United States Cast Iron Pipe was pushed up two points to a new high level at 103 1/2. DuPont and Potomac Cereal ruled one to 1/4 points higher. Trading was restricted to some extent, pending further developments in the money situation, following the advance in the call rate yesterday to three per cent. Railroad shares as a rule were neglected, although "Nickel Plate," Frisco and Union Pacific record slight gains. Several heavy spots included Public Service of New Jersey, American Tobacco and Case Threshing Machine, preferred, which declined 1/4 to 1 1/2 points. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Volatile industrial specialties became sensitive to selling pressure when the bear element started another drive against the market with the call money rate at 3 1/2 per cent. The highest renewal rate since July 8. Colorado Fuel broke 3 1/2 points and Crucible Steel, American Can, American Woolen, National Lead, Davison Chemical, American Smelting, General Electric, Stewart-Warner, Stromberg Carburetor, Railway Steel Spring, Woolworth and Associated, Dry Goods, and others, two points. Accumulation of the sugar issues, which advanced one to three points, and further buying of DuPont, International Cement and several public utility shares later imparted a steadier tone to trading.

Buying of shares embraced in the Van Sweringen railroad consolidation, also Norfolk and Western, Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred and Wash preferred, A, which advanced one to three points failed to sustain the market against the more abundant offerings of other stock. American Water Works and Electric broke 1/2. Jones Brothers Tea 1/4 to a new low for the year, at 16 1/2. Associated Dry Goods five, American Woolen 3 1/2, and Woolworth 3 points.

The closing was heavy. Selling pressure became more acute in the late trading. American Can, Davison Chemical, International Paper and American Agricultural preferred were hammered down 2 to 4 points. Western Union showed independent strength, climbing nearly three points to 125 1/2.

APPEAL TO COOLIDGE

Asked to Sanction Movement for Founding of Independent Nation in Africa

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Coolidge was asked today by a committee representing the Universal Negro Improvement association to sanction the movement for the founding of an independent nation in Africa as a means of lessening the "terrible friction between the races in this country that may eventually threaten American civilization."

Petitions which the committee said were signed by 4,000,000 negroes of the United States, asking the president to direct the state department to facilitate the migration of negroes to Africa, were presented. The petition also protested against the treatment accorded Marcus Garvey, president-general of the association, against the treatment said to have been accorded its representatives by United States Minister Hood at Liberia.

WALES SPENT ANOTHER NIGHT OUT LAST NIGHT

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The Prince of Wales spent another night out last night.

He arose at noon today at the James A. Burden place, his headquarters here, after less than seven hours sleep. The prince spent the night at the homes of friends near the Burden estate, beginning with a dinner party at the Henry Rogers Winthrop house and ending with a late supper at the home of Vincent Astor, a few miles away. It was the second time in as many days that the royal visitor had taken to his bed after the sun's arrival. His absence caused no anxiety in the Burden household.

The prince planned to go to the F. Ambrose Clark place this afternoon to look after his eight polo ponies, three of which are slightly lame after the hard game in which the future king of Britain rode them yesterday. He thought he might also observe the practice of the British and American polo teams at the Meadowbrook club later in the day.

The prince will dine tonight at the Piping Rock club and on Sunday will be the guest of Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador, at dinner. On Saturday Clarence Mackay will entertain the prince at a formal dinner at Harbor Hill, his Roslyn home. There will be a reception afterward.

SHERIFF CHARGED WITH FIRING FIRST SHOTS

HEBRON, Ill., Sept. 3.—Sheriff George Galligan and his deputy, Ora Thomas, were charged with having fired the first shots in the encounter last Saturday between his force and a group of Ku Klux Klansmen in the early testimony given today at the inquest held into the deaths of six men slain in front of the Smith garage. The sheriff and his deputy were charged with firing the shots that killed Chester Reid, who has been generally described as a hyacinther.

PRES. COOLIDGE WORKS ON BALTIMORE SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—With enthusiastic reports before him from his campaign manager, William M. Butler, and other political advisers, President Coolidge turned his attention today to work on his next speech, to be delivered in Baltimore Saturday morning at the unveiling of the Lafayette statue. Some consider it likely he will take this occasion to discuss at more length his foreign policies.

The president, meanwhile, has told advisers he considers it inappropriate to discuss political questions in his speech before the Holy Name society convention later this month. The address, he has pointed out, will be before a religious assembly and will be delivered, under present plans, on Sunday.

At the same time, the republican nominee has indicated he may make out of town speeches from time to time during the campaign as occasions arise, though regarding the duties of his office here as requiring his first attention.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

Nervousness, melancholia, headache, headache and pain in the side are all nature's danger signals which indicate some ailment peculiar to a woman. When such warning symptoms appear women may avoid much pain and suffering if they rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as its tonic, strengthening influence speedsily removes the cause and restores the system to a healthy, normal condition.

WILL BROADCAST NIGHT FOOTBALL GAME

What is believed to be a new feature of broadcasting will be introduced by WSAI, of the United States Playing Card company, Cincinnati, when "E. S. M." WSAI's sporting announcer, calls the plays direct from the playing field at the first night football game of the season. The game, in which the University of Cincinnati "Bears" meet the strong Kentucky Wesleyan team, will be called at 8 p. m. on Saturday, September 27. It is said that this will be the first night football game broadcast.

The playing field at James Gamble Nippert stadium of the University of Cincinnati will be lighted by a battery of huge searchlights which will enable players and spectators to follow every move of the game. A white flag will be used in order that players may follow punts and passes more accurately.

In addition to broadcasting the game on this date, WSAI will also broadcast the game between Cincinnati and Georgetown college on the following Saturday, as well as all the home football games of the University of Cincinnati squad. The game with Georgetown will also be played at night.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR MERRIMACK PARK

Mr. Arthur LaBonte, manager at Merrimack Park, won another triumph in securing Paul Specht and his wonderful orchestra. Last night 3230 people saw Paul Specht and his band go over the top with flying colors, and encore after encore had to be given to satisfy the eager dancing public. Today will be the last chance for the dance lovers to hear this wonderful band before they start on their western tour.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 14

As soon as Flip reached the shore he hopped right over on his side. It was very apparent that the dog had had a hard battle for he was all tuckered out. Jack rushed to his side and started rubbing his limbs. Then he discovered one of Flip's legs was slightly cut and bleeding.

"Gee," said Jack, "I wish I had some sort of a bandage with me. I'd like to wrap this sore leg up." The captain laughed and replied, "Well, sonny, you'd better learn how to make your own bandage. I'll show you how." Then the old man took hold of one of his shirt sleeves and ripped it off.

"That's the way to get a bandage," said the captain. And he wrapped the shirt sleeve around the dog's leg. Flip seemed to understand that he was being helped for he lay perfectly still until the captain had finished. Then the dog hopped up and licked the captain's hand. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

"FOR THE LAND SAKES! IS THIS WHERE YOU ARE?"

"Hello," said Silver Wings to Nancy and Nick.

"I'm glad, too," said Silver Wings. "Guess what I've got."

"The magic shoes!" shouted the Twins, guessing that they were to have more adventures.

"That's what," said Silver Wings, holding them up.

And then she told them how much the little wood people needed clothes to go to school in. Besides the Fairy Queen wanted them to help. And after that she gave them a lot of directions.

"Hooray!" cried Nick. "Won't that be jolly!"

"But can't you see so very well?" said Nancy, frowning.

"Oh, that doesn't matter a bit," said Silver Wings. "Mister Snip Snap will help you. Besides he has magic needles and magic thread and I'm perfectly sure you won't have a lot of trouble."

"All right," said Nancy obligingly. "I'll love to do it. Besides we're such good friends with the Cracknuts family and the Cottontails and everybody. I'll like to see them all again. And unless we have the magic shoes on, they'll never let us get a peep at them."

"Put on your shoes now, then," said the fairy. "I must be going. I promised the Fairy Queen to go and sing a lullaby to the fairy babies in the milkweed cradles. Goodbye."

Away she flew, looking almost exactly like a bright blue dragon fly with silver wings. She disappeared in a patch of tall golden rod and blue wild-asters.

"I think that fall is almost as pretty as summer," said Nancy, looking after her thoughtfully. "The leaves will soon be getting red, mother says, and—"

"For the land sakes! Is this where you are?" said a voice beside them, a bit sharply. "Here, when the Fairy Queen telephoned for me to meet you at the end of the path. I got Casper Cabird to ride me there as fast as he could go. And I've been waiting and waiting. I got tired finally and thought I'd hunt you up, and here you are, talking about red leaves and summer and everything like that when we ought to be working."

The Twins were too much surprised to talk even if they had had a chance, for there stood a funny little man, not only whose voice was sharp, but he looked sharp all over. But his eyes were kind.

"I'm Mister Snip Snap," he said. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

WHEELER TALKS ON KU KLUX KLAN

Tells Portland, Me., Audience La Follette First to Oppose Organization

Davis Hesitated Before Doing
So and Dawes' Words Left
Doubt Where He Stood

Country Still Waiting for Pres. Coolidge to Abandon
Silence on the Subject

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 3.—Senator Wheeler, vice-presidential candidate on the third ticket, left Portland early today, pushing forward his speaking tour in New England with stops scheduled at Lowell, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. Rain disturbed and delayed his Tuesday efforts, but did not halt them entirely, and in his night address at Portland before such an audience as defied weather and delay, he again criticized the democratic and republican parties, and introduced the topic of the Ku Klux Klan.

Senator La Follette, his presidential candidate, was the first national contestant, Senator Wheeler said, to declare publicly that the Ku Klux Klan was an organization adverse to American principles. John W. Davis, the democratic nominee, had hesitated long before doing so, he continued. General Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, has used in Maine such words on the subject that there was doubt as to where he stood, and the "country was still waiting for President Coolidge to abandon silence on the subject." Senator Wheeler said. He himself, added the senator, stood for no organization which proposed to enforce its will illegally.

ACTIVE REVOLT AGAINST SOVIET

Revolt Against Moscow
Regime

Half of Territory of Georgia
Conquered by Insurgents
—Bloody Conflicts

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—All of Georgia and Azerbaijan is declared to have been in active revolt against the Moscow soviet regime for the last five days and half the territory of Georgia already has been conquered by the insurgents, according to representatives of Georgia here, who announced the receipt of this news today. The sanguinary struggle is continuing and fighting is occurring in the streets of Batumi, their advance state.

Bloody Conflicts
LONDON, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—The Georgian representatives in London have received a despatch from Constantinople saying that Georgia and Azerbaijan were revolting against the soviet occupation forces and that bloody conflicts have occurred, many being killed or wounded and railway and telegraphic communication being interrupted.

British official circles were unable today to confirm these reports.

A despatch from Tiflis, capital of the Georgian republic, received by way of Moscow September 1, declared an attempt to overthrow the soviet regime in Georgia, made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic, had been put down. An official communique issued by the Georgian council of commissars claimed the movement had been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

MacDONALD AND HERRIOT ATTEND

Bring Weight of Britain and France to Support of League of Nations

Great Audience Fills Hall to
of League Assembly.

GENEVA, Sept. 3 (By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister MacDonald of England and Premier Herriot of France, brought the weights of the governments of the British empire and the French republic to the support of the League of Nations when today they attended the session of the league's assembly.

A great audience which filled every inch of space in the hall gathered to greet the premiers and accord them an enthusiastic welcome, but did not have the satisfaction of hearing either speak, for the two statesmen sat quietly with their delegations and listened to the debate on the work of the league's council during the past year.

A feature of today's discussion was the laudatory address of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway, concerning America's traditional adherence to the idea of arbitration. He emphasized the importance of the declaration for adherence to the world court of justice made by Secretary Hughes and indicated to the delegates and other audience his impression that the entire force of the United States would eventually be cast in support of any reasonable arbitration development as a means of preserving peace.

Gilbert to Be Agent-General

Officially announced by the reparation commission at a meeting this afternoon. He is due to arrive in Paris about the middle of the month.

Mr. Young will return on the 14th from Berlin, where he is going today. He intends to meet the commission for railway reparations here, at that time to arrange with them the particulars of the payments to be made to the agent-general, and Mr. Gilbert is expected here in time to take part in this conference.

Rufus Dawes, who goes with Mr. Young to Berlin, is to be placed by him in charge of the Berlin office of the organization carrying out the Dawes plan.

Mr. Young remarked before leaving on his trip that Germany's payment of 20,000,000 gold marks yesterday spoke more effectively than any words of his.

The reparation commission met this afternoon and confirmed the appointment of Mr. Gilbert in succession to Agent-General Young.

Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., is but 31 years of age and unmarried. By profession a lawyer, he became interested in governmental financial matters in 1915 when he was made a member of the war loan staff in the office of the secretary of the treasury, acting as counsel in matters pertaining to the raising of funds for the prosecution of America's part in the great war.

In June, 1920, he was nominated by President Wilson for the post of assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of fiscal affairs. He was reappointed in March, 1921 and served until June of that year, following which he became under-secretary of the treasury, continuing in that position until November of last year.

Mr. Gilbert holds several degrees from Rutgers college and is an LL.B. cum laude of Harvard university. He made his home in Bloomfield, N. J., the place of his birth.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Street Railway Company
Granted Permit to Operate
Busses Here

Councilor Cosgrove's Motion
to Reconsider Defeated—
Fireman Collins Pensioned

The street railway company was finally granted a permit to operate busses within the city limits by the city council last evening. At the last previous meeting of the council a vote granting the permit was recorded.

Before routine business had been completed, the council was requested by the chair and said he wished to substitute for his motion to reconsider the vote, a motion referring to the granting of the permit to a referendum at the regular election. The chair ruled action of the motion to reconsider must come first and on vote. The motion was lost.

Hearings on a number of petitions for telephone and electric light pole locations were held. There was an exceptionally large number of hearings, namely in connection with the new street lighting system, and 45 minutes were taken up with this business.

Other routine petitions were referred to the various city departments for investigation and approval.

Councilor Cosgrove, speaking on his motion at the last previous meeting to reconsider the council vote granting a permit to the Eastern Massachusetts company to operate busses in this city, offered to substitute a motion referring the matter to a referendum at the next regular election.

On vote, the motion to reconsider was lost, only Councilors Cosgrove and McPadden voting in the affirmative.

A petition from Pawtucketville residents for the construction of a bridge over Beaver Brook at Conduit street was referred for public hearing Sept. 16.

An order was adopted authorizing the public service board to determine the rates for assessments for street lighting for 1924.

Moses L. Collins, for over 25 years a member of the fire department and over 40 years of age, was voted a pension of $367.25 per annum.

On motion of Councilor McPadden, the meeting adjourned at 9:35 o'clock.

NEW YORK CITY HIKERS HAVE GOOD LUCK

Last evening two "hitch-hiking" fans arrived in Lowell from Caratunk, Me. They were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morchard of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Morchard left New York three weeks ago and started on the road to Chicago. They had only walked a few miles when an obliging motorist gave them a lift to Cleveland, Ohio. From Cleveland a few more rides brought them to the "Windy City." The entire trip from New York to Chicago was made in just four days. From Chicago they came east and Saturday evening arrived at the town of Caratunk, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Morchard left Caratunk yesterday morning and hiked to Biddeford. In Biddeford they were given a lift by a soldier who was on his way back to Camp Devens and who landed in Lowell at 9 o'clock last evening.

This morning the hikers started for Boston and confidently expected to arrive there in time for lunch. They intended to make a day or two in Boston in order to visit points of interest and then return to New York, arriving there about the first of next week.

WINANT WINS IN N. H. PRIMARY

Nominated for Governor by Republicans Over Maj.

Knox by Plurality of 2084
Klan Candidate Nominated
For Sheriff of Stratford
County

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 3.—Captain John G. Winant, Concord financier was conceded the republican nomination for governor at an early hour today by his chief opponent, Major Frank Knox, publisher of the Manchester Union and Leader, when the returns from 217 of the 294 electoral districts gave Winant a plurality of 2084. The totals were: Winant 18,636; Knox 16,612.

In the republican nominations for congressional representatives, Fletcher H. Laconia, in the first district and Congressman Edward J. Wilson of Nashua in the second, Senator Henry W. Keyes of Doverhill was renominated without opposition. The democrats had no contests for nomination for governor or for congressional delegates.

Major Knox, in a message of congratulations, declared that "the important thing now is to elect the entire republican ticket" and "to stand behind Calvin Coolidge and the state standard bearers of the party."

The only district in which the Ku Klux Klan was considered a factor in the election, returned the Klan candidate in the nomination of William H. Davis, mayor of Rochester, for sheriff of Stratford county, defeating, according to the latest returns, the present incumbent, Frank M. Goodwin. Davis received the endorsement of the Klan in his majority campaign last spring.

Miss Elizabeth Sanborn of Laconia furnished one of the surprises of the contest in defeating Edward L. Lydard, also of Laconia, in the contest for registrar of deeds in Belknap county.

URGE GENERAL DISPLAY OF NEW ENGLAND MADE PRODUCTS

Windows in Vacant Stores Recommended as Suitable
for Street Advertising Purposes—Direct Appeal to Lowell Manufacturers to Display Home Made Goods

Lowell manufacturers who have responded with commendable utility of action in the call to observe "All New England Week" from Sept. 15 to 20, today received from John S. Lawrence, chairman of the committee supervising the New England campaign, the following personal letter:

"The committee in charge of associating locations for the display of New England-made products, finds a number of windows in vacant stores on the main streets of numerous New England cities and towns, available for such exhibits during the week of Sept. 15 to 20—some at nominal prices, others without charge.

"If you have in your city or town manufacturers who wish to secure use of one of these stores during New England week, will you either advise the New England week committee immediately or ask the manufacturers to send their applications in immediately. Reservations should be made in order of receipt.

"The All New England Week" committee suggests that your committee offer and award three ribbons of different colors, as first, second and third prizes for the best window displays in Lowell of New England-made goods during New England week.

Chairman Lawrence forwards an interesting summary of some of the work that has been performed during the past two weeks in spreading "New England propaganda" to all quarters of the six states. Extensive advertising campaigns are being conducted by the distribution of booklets, flyers, tags and buttons. A brief summary of the scope of some of the progressive campaigns now being waged in cities like Lowell, is presented as follows:

Over 5000 advertising placards featuring "New England Week" are now on display in the street cars. New posters are designed nearly every week.

More than 1,000,000 advertising

stickers have been ordered and have just begun to be used.

About 300,000 blotters carrying the message of "New England Week," have already been printed, and are in process of distribution by public utilities corporations, banks, department stores, and others.

Quantities of tags of assorted sizes and bearing the necessary labels, have been sent to all chambers of commerce, local committees and many individuals.

The "New England Week" colors of pine tree green and oak leaf red are being generally used for decorations.

A special "N.E.W." worker button is now ready with pledge cards. It is expected that these will be worn by more than 100,000 people within a short space of time.

No publicity would be complete without a story. Stories relating to "New England Week" are being broadcasted day and night.

Every active New England manufacturer has taken advantage of this opportunity to stimulate distribution of products.

The Massachusetts state branch of the American Federation of Labor has unanimously passed an emphatic resolution of this movement.

During the observance of "New England Week," many hotels will feature New England foods, specializing in fruits, vegetables and fish. Special "New England menus" will be the rule each day.

The Lawrence letter of survey and outlining some of the prospective work ahead, closes with the following cheerful prediction:

"This, we believe, is the beginning of a new New England era. A lot of hard work lays ahead, but it can be done, and those who work for a great purpose will find it well worth the effort for a prosperous United States, as the two go together."
